H——L AT HALEYS.

William's Sad Story About Amanda—He Charges Her with Many Lapses from Virtue.

William Haley steps forward and tells the court that Amanda Haley, to whom he was married in October, 1878, has played hob, and he wants a divorce from her. He says that Amanda has at various and divers occasions committed adultery with Bert Wilson, Joseph Gier and Cyrus Griffith at Van Wert, O., and all this business was done without his consent. He further stated that Amanda was in the habit of skirmishing around with bad men and women, which he don't think is the proper thing for married women to do. He says that since he found out the elasticity of Amanda's virtue he has not been living on intimate terms with her, and hopes that the court will recognize his grievances and act accordingly.

THE RAILROADS.

Damaging Evidence Discovered Against Yakoob Kahn's Father.

Intense Cold Still Prevailing Throughout Europe.

GREAT BRITAIN.
PARNELL.

London, Dec. 11.—Parnell, Finegan and John Dillon expect to sail for America on the 20th inst. Parnell will address a meeting at Ballina Sunday next.

Patrick Smith, home rule member for West Meath, has telegraphed the American nationalists his regrets that he is unable to accept their invitation to go to America to speak for the cause of Ireland.

THE WEATHER.

The weather continues severe throughout Great Britain. The Seine has not been completely frozen over before since 1861. So hard and continuous frosts, so early in the season, have not been experienced in Austria since 1838. Much snow has fallen in Sicily and Calabria, making communication difficult. Bread riots have occurred in the district of Ravenna in consequence of the general distress. The cold is still intense in Berlin. In upper Silesia, where the famine prevails, the thermometer indicated twelve degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, Tuesday.

FRANCE.
GAMBETTA'S GAS.

New York, Dec. 11.—A correspondent of the Tribune has had a talk with Gambetta on policies and affairs in France. Among other things, Gambetta says that part of the education fund next year will be spent in providing a national system of education for girls, and that the tax of every sort on wine will be reduced in the interest of the working classes. French women he declares to be marvelously gifted creatures, who only need emancipation to make them simply peerless, and bad wine, he intimates, has had its part in causing communism and revolution. There is no need, he says, for another premier, but if he himself were asked to form a cabinet he should refuse, and if the chamber were displeased at his refusal he should subside again into plain Gambetta.

RUSSIA.
RUSSIAN REFORMS.

London, Dec. 11.—A St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs that no vast constitutional reforms are at all meditated. Any sudden reversion from the existing regime to a modern constitutional one would be impracticable. The recent attempt upon the life of the czar must necessarily delay any great change in a liberal sense. Great anxiety prevails here in the expectation of new repressive measures foreshadowed in that part of the czar's speech at Moscow in which he spoke of the necessity of eradicating the spirit of sedition.

ROME.
PAPAL DISPATCHES.

Rome, Nov. 11.—The pope has sent fresh dispatches to the bishops of Chili and Peru, recommending them to use their influence in favor of peace. The first dispatches sent to the papal nuncio at Brussells instructs him to consider that the difference between the Vatican and Belgian government has terminated if the Belgian cabinet will so regard it. If the cabinet do not agree to this, he is instructed to maintain a reserve.

GERMANY.
AMERICANS AND THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

Berlin, Dec. 11.—The North German Gazette makes merry over the American interference on behalf of the disaffected Irish, and asks "What has become of the Monroe doctrine?" the suggestion being an inversion of that doctrine.

BERLIN EXHIBITION.

The government refuses to assist the scheme for a universal exhibition at Berlin, and without such assistance the project must be abandoned.

CUBA.
CUBAN AFFAIRS.

Madrid, Dec. 11.—Eldevayen, minister of colonies, yesterday telegraphed to the commander-in-chief of the Cuban government that he would dispatch from Spain the means required for the complete suppression of the insurrection and he would also carry out the proposed economic reforms in Cuba.

AFGHANISTAN.
NEW EVIDENCE.

Cabul, Dec. 11.—Most damaging evidence has been obtained against Yokeya Khan, father-in-law of the ex-ameer Yakoob Kahn, in the discovery of a large map of Turkey bearing Major Cavagnaris's name in full, with the date 1865, hidden in a box containing clothing found in Yokeya Kahn's house.

AUSTRIA.
FLOODS SUBSIDING.

Vienna, Dec. 10.—At Arad and Grusswardein, hard frost having set in, the waters are beginning to fall.

THE GRANT BOOM.

It Took Cincinnati by Storm To-day.

The Illustrious Deadhead Royally Feasted.

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 11.—Since an early hour the streets have been alive with people, many with satchels and looking as if they had walked in or slept all night to catch a glimpse of Grant this morning. The day broke cloudy but without rain. The city seemed transformed during the night and the decorations of buildings anywhere near the line of procession. Before 12.30 all the streets leading to the public landing were black with spectators. At 9.25 Gen. Grant and the special train left Louisville, and at 12.35 the booming of cannon, shrieking of whistles, clanging of bells and ringing cheers, announced that they had arrived, and our distinguished Grant knocked at the city's gates. The special train ran into the city, up to the public landing, when Gen. Grant and party alighted in front of the grand triumphal arch and gateway, bearing the words "The Gates of Our City are Open to Gen. U. S. Grant." Here Benjamin Eggleston received the party. Gen. Grant's party then took its place in the procession, which was formed with right wing on Broadway, as follows:

THE PROCESSION.

Mounted Police.
Band.
Visiting Military Companies from Brown County and Covington.
Band.
First Regiment O. N. G.
Band.
Soldiers and Sailors.
Memorial Associations of Cincinnati, Covington and Newport, accompanied by the First and Second Kentucky Regimental Associations.
Fifth Ohio Regimental Association.
Band.
Deutscher Landwehr Verein.
Grand Army of the Republic.
Grant, accompanied by the Mayor and Chairman of the Reception Committee.
Ex-Army and Navy Officers, mounted.
Band.
Reception Committee and Invited Guests, in carriages.

The procession moved north on Broadway to Fourth, west to Main, north to Fifth, west to Walnut, south to Fourth, west to Central, north to Seventh, east to Elm, north to south side of Eighth, east to Vine, north to Fifteenth, west to Elm and south to Music Hall. These streets were crowded, and Gen. Grant's appearance at every point was the signal for great enthusiasm and cheering. Mrs. Grant was received by the committee of ladies and went direct to the Gibson House.

AT MUSIC HALL

the decorations consist of tastefully arranged palms and fichus in great variety, and a mammoth flag festooned across the east end, with the word "Welcome" in large letters. Gen. Grant was accompanied to the stage by the reception committee. The public were admitted on cards liberally distributed, the ladies and their escorts having sole occupation of the balconies. Immediately after his entrance to the stage,

MAYOR JACOBS

addressed Gen. Grant as follows:

> The city of Cincinnati bids welcome to you, her distinguished guest. Her citizens feel proud to have in their midst one who has rendered great and valuable services to our country when civil war threatened to destroy it, and who, when peace was restored, at the helm of state enforced such measures that all citizens of the country could enjoy the fruits of the war. Fellow citizens, we cannot honor our guest too much, for he has ever been ready to respond when his country required his services, either in peace or war, and has been recognized and received by all people and countries as a most worthy representative of the American republic. Make his stay in our midst a pleasant one, so that he may ever remember his visit to your city, the "Queen City of the West," with gratification. General Grant, in behalf of the city of Cincinnati, I heartily welcome you.

WASHINGTON.

To-day's Proceedings in Both Houses of Congress.

NOMINATIONS.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The president has nominated James B. Sauer, of Virginia, chief justice of Wyoming Territory; Edward Stevenson, at Reed City, Mich., register of the land office.

THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION

Renewed its session to-day. A letter from President Hayes was read. The president expressed his regrets in not being able personally to acknowledge the invitation to be present and emphatically expressed his appreciation of the objects of the association and his wishes for its success and future welfare. John Merriman, of Maryland, has been chosen president. The vice-presidents include U. S. Tornhead of Ohio, J. C. Stevens of Ohio, Eavid Toggart of Pennsylvania, John Scott of Ohio, Ashabel Smith of Texas, C. W. Thompson of Minnesota, J. D. Gillett of Illinois, J. V. Avery of Georgia, John D. Adams of Arkansas, Gov. Alcohn of Mississippi, Col. J. B. Killiber of Tennessee, Cassius M. Clay of Kentucky, Roger W. Woodbury of Colorado, John P. Jones of Nevada, G. V. Swallow of Minour, John A. Forman, Indian Territory; Chester Hazen Brandon, Wis.; Henry G. Davis, West Virginia; Claude Matthews, Indiana; C. G. Wells, Michigan; C. Henry, Kansas; D. H. Wheeler, Nebraska.

Congressional.
SENATE.

Mr. Allison, from the committee on Indian affairs, reported with two amendments, the joint resolution that the secretary of the interior through a commission of five persons, to be appointed by the president, to negotiate with the Ute Indians for their removal from Colorado. Mr. Allison stated that owing to the fact that the Utes would be in Washington during the recess, it was important that the resolution be passed.

Mr. Cockrell objected to its present consideration. If there was any provision allowing the removal of the Indians to Indian territory, he gave notice that there would be bitter opposition to it.

Mr. Allison explained that the committee amendments to the resolution expressly excluded such a possibility, but Mr. Cockrell declined to withdraw his objection, and the resolution went over.

Mr. Wallace offered a resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be authorized to employ three additional messengers and assign one each to the committees on revolutionary claims, private land claims and engrossed bills. Adopted.

Several private pension bills were passed.

It was resolved that when the senate adjourn to-day, it be till Monday.

HOUSE.

Mr. Acklin introduced a bill authorizing the appointment, by the president, of a commission of engineers to examine the surveys of the contemplated canal across the Isthmus of Panama. Referred.

The bill relating to unloading of foreign ships at ports of delivery was, after a short discussion, recommitted.

Mr. Baker, from the committee on appropriations, reported the fortifications bill, appropriating $375,000. Ordered printed and recommitted. He gave notice that he would report it back to-morrow morning and ask its consideration.

Mr. Cord, from the committee on manufactures, reported back the joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution relative to trade marks. Ordered printed and recommitted.

Mr. Plumb introduced a bill to amend the statute relating to taxes upon banks and bankers. It provides that no association shall be liable to taxes imposed by section 5,214 of the revised statues upon any sum under the name of deposits which may be deposited with any other association, bank, or banker, and which is subject to taxation with such associations. The bill also proposes to exempt from taxation the deposits in provident associations, savings banks and saving fund institutions, except where and deposit to the credit of one person, firm or corporation exceeds $2,000. In such cases the excess above that amount is to be liable to tax.

The bill authorizing the allowance for loss, by leakage or casualty, of spirits withdrawn from distillery warehouses for exportation, passed.

The invalid pension appropriation bill was reported, ordered printed and recommitted. It appropriates about $3,000,000 more than last year.

Adjourned.

IN GENERAL.

MONUMENT.

New York, Dec. 11.—The New England Society is about to erect a monument to the pilgrim fathers, in Central Park.

POSTAL BUSINESS.

The postoffice yesterday sent by outgoing steamers 1,152,228 letters, the heaviest foreign mail ever sent out of the office in one day. Over $5,000 in foreign money orders were issued, and they average a little over $12 each. The increased business is attributed to the custom foreigners have of sending remittances home at Christmas time. This year the number sent is estimated to be 60 percent greater than in any previous year.

EMIGRANTS.

The number of emigrants at this port in November, 14,600; an increase of 8,855 over November, 1878. The arrivals since January 1st are 125,000, an increase of 49,755 over the same period in 1878.

COAL STOPPED.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey has ordered the entire suspension of running and transportation of coal from Dec. 24 to Jan. 5.

AN AUTHOR DEAD.

Boston, Dec. 11.—Dr. Enoch Cobb Wines died yesterday, at Cambridge, Mass., where he was engaged in supervising the printing of his last work on the state of prisons and child-saving institutions throughout the world. Dr. Wines was born at Hanover, N. J., in 1806.

SHIP LOST.

London, Dec. 11.—The captain and crew of the bark Warren Hastings, less two men washed overboard in a gale, lands to-day at Falmouth. The vessel was from Lisbon for Philadelphia and foundered in a gale lasting from the 15th to the 18th of November.

SENTENCED.

New York, Dec. 11.—Pietro Balto, convicted of killing his wife, has been sentenced to be hanged on the 16th of January next. When the judge asked Balto what he had to say why sentence should not be pronounced upon him, he replied, "I did not intend to kill my wife, but she tried to kill me."

ACQUITTED.

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 11.—In the case of Hayden, charged with the murder, by poison, of his sister, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. The verdict was received with loud cheers. The prisoner wept like a child.

SCHOONER SUNK.

Gloucester, Mass., Dec. 11.—The fishing schooner Andrew Leighton, with a crew of fourteen men, is supposed to have been lost in the recent gales.

KENDALLVILLE.

A Budget of News and Gossip From the Metropolis of Noble County.

[Correspondence of the SENTINEL.]

Kendallville, Dec. 11.—A wealthy ex-lumber dealer and his wife, living four miles east of this city, had a lively set-to on Main street yesterday, to the amusement of a large crowd of by-standers. He would not let his wife ride home with him unless she handed over her loaded revolver to some gentlemen present. He went home alone.

DESPAIR'S DOSE.

A Ruined Girl Swallows a Dose of Poisons.

But Still Lingers On This Earthly Scene.

A young lady, an employe at one of our leading hotels, has recently discovered herself to be in a condition more interesting than agreeable. It is said that she informed the author of the mischief of the disastrous state of affairs, and asked him to save her from the disgrace which would follow the exposure of the circumstances. He refused to do the square thing, and she became disconsolate, and finally, last night, in despair, resolved to take her own life. She sent the porter of the house to one of the leading drug stores and instructed him to procure her five cents worth of white precipitate. He did so and gave it to her, when she took the whole amount at one dose. Fortunately for her, white precipitate is a safe poison, and instead of sending her to immortal glory it acted as an emetic and made her deathly sick. She began vomiting and almost threw up her immortal soul. Physicians were called and she was properly treated and is now getting along nicely. The call was a tolerably close one and she will doubtless let poison alone in the future, or take a less sickening dose.

AMUSEMENTS.

ACROSS THE CONTINENT.

Oliver Doud Byron will appear at the Academy next Monday evening, in his great sensational success "Across the Continent," which has drawn crowded and delighted audiences all over the country. Mr. Byron has a large and talented company, and as he is one of the best actors on the stage, will doubtless draw well.

A "PUBLIC DISGRACE."

"B" Makes a Scathing Response to a Criticism on His Former Communication.

To the Editor of the SENTINEL:

I notice an alleged explanation in the Gazette this morning signed "G.," in which that individual says "the impression seems to prevail that the article in the SENTINEL of the 5th headed 'a public disgrace,' alludes to C. Orff." If that is the case, the impression is a wrong one and as not one iota of that article pointed to an address, but to an essay, I cannot conceive where "G." found such an opinion prevailing. He says Mr. Orff made one of the very best temperance speeches ever made in that little church; and that he did "make a mash on the meeting." Probably he did. I occupied a front seat, and did not see him after he left the speaker's stand. Upon the authority of "G." I will state that C. Orff "made a mash on the meeting." Let no one forget it, and I trust the city papers will make a note of it, keep it before the people and thereby set "G." at rest. He says Mr. Orff's address had "charity for all." Queer charity, that, especially his remarks with reference to the ladies. "Saloon keepers," he said, "don't make drunkards, neither do men; but women make them. They can't bake a mince pie, nor get up a pudding without rum, and when they have a child six months old they have a six-months' 'rumling' sucking them." Noticing the ladies blush, some hiding their faces, and even the average reformed man looking sour, Mr. Orff said: "I know you don't like this; it isn't palatable; but I'LL tell the truth if this building falls." Looking around excitedly, he continued: "I could say much more, but I'll quit." Nobody said "Go on," as is the custom when a good address is cut short. His overcoat and hat were hurriedly handed him, and he left. So much for "the very best temperance speech ever made in that little church," my item about Mr. Orff's address and his "mash on the meeting."

"G." says the author of the essay is "the son of one of our most respectable citizens," etc.; that he "did not abuse the person alluded to, but merely stated that he was once as fine a looking man as walked the streets of our city, but the demon alcohol ruined him." Yes, he said that, and also that the person alluded to was "idiotic, a wreck, a disgrace to himself, his family and the community." Why didn't "G." quote this? If that essay was all right, nothing but charity in it, why are you afraid to let the impression prevail that C. Orff is the author of it? To speak thus of a cripple, in my opinion, is no credit to "the son of one of our most respectable citizens," nor to a reformed man, nor to anybody else.

In conclusion "G." advises me to "come forward once more and sign the pledge." As I have never broken the pledge, and never intend to, it is unnecessary to "come forward once more." I hope "G." will remain faithful; indeed, I do. As one good turn deserves another, I will advise "G." to put in less time at that corner drug store. "Let him that stands be careful lest he fall." B.

William's Sad Story About Amanda—He Charges Her with Many Lapses from Virtue.

William Haley steps forward and tells the court that Amanda Haley, to whom he was married in October, 1878, has played hob, and he wants a divorce from her. He says that Amanda has at various and divers occasions committed adultery with Bert Wilson, Joseph Gler and Cyrus Griffith at Van Wert, O., and all this business was done without his consent. He further stated that Amanda was in the habit of skirmishing around with bad men and women, which he don't think is the proper thing for married women to do. He says that since he found out the elasticity of Amanda's virtue he has not been living on intimate terms with her, and hopes that the court will recognize his grievances and act accordingly.

PARNELL.

London, Dec. 11.—Parnell, Finegan and John Dillon expect to sail for America on the 20th inst. Parnell will address a meeting at Ballina Sunday next.

Patrick Smith, home rule member for West Meath, has telegraphed the American nationalists his regrets that he is unable to accept their invitation to go to America to speak for the cause of Ireland.

THE WEATHER.

The weather continues severe throughout Great Britain. The Seine has not been completely frozen over before since 1861. So hard and continuous frosts, so early in the season, have not been experienced in Austria since 1838. Much snow has fallen in Sicily and Calabria, making communication difficult. Bread riots have occurred in the district of Ravenna in consequence of the general distress. The cold is still intense in Berlin. In upper Silesia, where the famine prevails, the thermometer indicated twelve degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, Tuesday.

FRANCE.

GAMBETTA'S GAS.

New York, Dec. 11.—A correspondent of the Tribune has had a talk with Gambetta on policies and affairs in France. Among other things, Gambetta says that part of the education fund next year will be spent in providing a national system of education for girls, and that the tax of every sort on wine will be reduced in the interest of the working classes. French women he declares to be marvelously gifted creatures, who only need emancipation to make them simply peerless, and bad wine, he intimates, has had its part in causing communism and revolution. There is no need, he says, for another premier, but if he himself were asked to form a cabinet he should refuse, and if the chamber were displeased at his refusal he should subside again into plain Gambetta.

RUSSIA.

RUSSIAN REFORMS.

London, Dec. 11.—A St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs that no vast constitutional reforms are at all meditated. Any sudden reversion from the existing regime to a modern constitutional one would be impracticable. The recent attempt upon the life of the czar must necessarily delay any great change in a liberal sense. Great anxiety prevails here in the expectation of new repressive measures foreshadowed in that part of the czar's speech at Moscow in which he spoke of the necessity of eradicating the spirit of sedition.

ROME.

PAPAL DISPATCHES.

Rome, Nov. 11.—The pope has sent fresh dispatches to the bishops of Chili and Peru, recommending them to use their influence in favor of peace. The first dispatches sent to the papal nuncio at Brussells instructs him to consider that the difference between the Vatican and Belgian government has terminated if the Belgian cabinet will so regard it. If the cabinet do not agree to this, he is instructed to maintain a reserve.

THE GRANT BOOM.

It Took Cincinnati by Storm To-day.

The Illustrious Deadhead Royally Feasted.

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 11.—Since an early hour the streets have been alive with people, many with satchels and looking as if they had walked in or slept all night to catch a glimpse of Grant this morning. The day broke cloudy but without rain. The city seemed transformed during the night and the decorations of buildings anywhere near the line of prosession. Before 12.30 all the streets leading to the public landing were black with spectators. At 9.25 Gen. Grant and the special train left Louisville, and at 12.35 the booming of cannor, shrieking of whistles, clanging of bells and ringing cheers, announced that they had arrived, and our distinguished Grant knocked at the city's gates. The special train ran into the city, up to the public landing, when Gen. Grant and party alighted in front of the grand triumphal arch and gateway, bearing the words "The Gates of Our City are Open to Gen. U. S. Grant." Here Benjamin Eggleston received the party. Gen. Grant's party then took its place in the procession, which was formed with right wing on Broadway, as follows:

THE PROCESSION.

Mounted Police.
Band.
Visiting Military Companies from Brown County and Covington.
Band.
First Regiment O. N. G.
Band.
Soldiers and Sailors.
Memorial Associations of Cincinnati, Covington and Newport, accompanied by the First and Second Kentucky Regimental Associations.
Fifth Ohio Regimental Association.
Band.
Deutscher Landwehr Verein.
Grand Army of the Republic.
Grant, accompanied by the Mayor and Chairman of the Reception Committee.
Ex-Army and Navy Officers, mounted.
Band.
Reception Committee and Invited Guests, in carriages.

The procession moved north on Broadway to Fourth, west to Main, north to Fifth, west to Walnut, south to Fourth, west to Central, north to Seventh, east to Elm, north to south side of Eighth, east to Vine, north to Fifteenth, west to Elm and south to Music Hall. These streets were crowded, and Gen. Grant's appearance at every point was the signal for great enthusiasm and cheering. Mrs. Grant was received by the committee of ladies and went direct to the Gibson House.

AT MUSIC HALL

the decorations consist of tastefully arranged palms and fichus in great variety, and a mammoth flag festooned across the east end, with the word "Welcome" in large letters. Gen. Grant was accompanied to the stage by the reception committee. The public were admitted on cards liberally distributed, the ladies and their escorts having sole occupation of the balconies. Immediately after his entrance to the stage,

MAYOR JACOBS

addressed Gen. Grant as follows:

The city of Cincinnati bids welcome to you, her distinguished guest. Her citizens feel proud to have in their midst one who has rendered great and valuable services to our country when civil war threatened to destroy it, and who, when peace was restored, at the helm of state enforced such measures that all citizens of the country could enjoy the fruits of the war. Fellow citizens, we cannot honor our guest too much, for he has ever been ready to respond when his country required his services, either in peace or war, and has been recognized and received by all people and countries as a most worthy representative of the American republic. Make his stay in our midst a pleasant one, so that he may ever remember his visit to your city, the "Queen City of the West," with gratification. General Grant, in behalf of the city of Cincinnati, I heartily welcome you.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The president has nominated James B. Sauer, of Virginia, chief justice of Wyoming Territory; Edward Stevenson, at Reed City, Mich., register of the land office.

Renewed its session to-day. A letter from President Hayes was read. The president expressed his regrets in not being able personally to acknowledge the invitation to be present and emphatically expressed his appreciation of the objects of the association and his wishes for its success and future welfare. John Merriman, of Maryland, has been chosen president. The vice-presidents include U. S. Tormhead of Ohio, J. C. Stevens of Ohio, Eavid Toggart of Pennsylvania, John Scott of Ohio, Ashabel Smith of Texas, C. W. Thompson of Minnesota, J. D. Gillett of Illinois, J. V. Avery of Georgia, John D. Congressional.

SENATE.

Mr. Allison, from the committee on Indian affairs, reported with two amendments, the joint resolution that the secretary of the interior through a commission of five persons, to be appointed by the president, to negotiate with the Ute Indians for their removal from Colorado. Mr. Allison stated that owing to the fact that the Utes would be in Washington during the recess, it was important that the resolution be passed.

Mr. Cockrell objected to its present consideration. If there was any provision allowing the removal of the Indians to Indian territory, he gave notice that there would be bitter opposition to it.

Mr. Allison explained that the committee amendments to the resolution expressly excluded such a possibility, but Mr. Cockrell declined to withdraw his objection, and the resolution went over.

Mr. Wallace offered a resolution that the sergeant-at-arms be authorized to employ three additional messengers and assign one each to the committees on revolutionary claims, private land claims and engrossed bills. Adopted.

Several private pension bills were passed.

It was resolved that when the senate adjourn to-day, it be till Monday.

HOUSE.

Mr. Acklin introduced a bill authorizing the appointment, by the president, of a commission of engineers to examine the surveys of the contemplated canal across the Isthmus of Panama. Referred.

The bill relating to unloading of foreign ships at ports of delivery was, after a short discussion, recommitted.

Mr. Baker, from the committee on appropriations, reported the fortifications bill, appropriating $375,000. Ordered printed and recommitted. He gave notice that he would report it back to-morrow morning and ask its consideration.

Mr. Cord, from the committee on manufactures, reported back the joint resolution on proposing an amendment to the constitution relative to trade marks. Ordered printed and recommitted.

Mr. Plumb introduced a bill to amend the statute relating to taxes upon banks and bankers. It provides that no association shall be liable to taxes imposed by section 5,214 of the revised statues upon any sum under the name of deposits which may be deposited with any other association, bank, or banker, and which is subject to taxation with such associations. The bill also proposes to exempt from taxation the deposits in provident associations, savings banks and saving fund institutions, except where and deposit to the credit of one person, firm or corporation exceeds $2,000. In such cases the excess above that amount is to be liable to tax.

The bill authorizing the allowance for loss, by leakage or casualty, of spirits withdrawn from distillery warehouses for exportation, passed.

The invalid pension appropriation bill was reported, ordered printed and recommitted. It appropriates about $3,000,000 more than last year.

Adjourned.

IN GENERAL.

MONUMENT.

New York, Dec. 11.—The New England Society is about to erect a monument to the pilgrim fathers, in Central Park.

POSTAL BUSINESS.

The postoffice yesterday sent by outgoing steamers 1,152,228 letters, the heaviest foreign mail ever sent out of the office in one day. Over $5,000 in foreign money orders were issued, and they average a little over $12 each. The increased business is attributed to the custom foreigners have of sending remittances home at Christmas time. This year the number sent is estimated to be 60 percent greater than in any previous year.

EMIGRANTS.

The number of emigrants at this port in November, 14,600; an increase of 8,855 over November, 1878. The arrivals since January 1st are 125,000, an increase of 49,755 over the same period in 1878.

COAL STOPPED.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey has ordered the entire suspension of running and transportation of coal from Dec. 24 to Jan. 5.

AN AUTHOR DEAD.

Boston, Dec. 11.—Dr. Enoch Cobb Wines died yesterday, at Cambridge, Mass., where he was engaged in supervising the printing of his last work on the state of prisons and child-saving institutions throughout the world. Dr. Wines was born at Hanover, N. J., in 1806.

SHIP LOST.

London, Dec. 11.—The captain and crew of the bark Warren Hastings, less two men washed overboard in a gale, lands to-day at Falmouth. The vessel was from Lisbon for Philadelphia and foundered in a gale lasting from the 15th to the 18th of November.

SENTENCED.

New York, Dec. 11.—Pietro Balto, convicted of killing his wife, has been sentenced to be hanged on the 16th of January next. When the judge asked Balto what he had to say why sentence should not be pronounced upon him, he replied, "I did not intend to kill my wife, but she tried to kill me."

ACQUITTED.

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 11.—In the case of Hayden, charged with the murder, by poison, of his sister, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. The verdict was received with loud cheers. The prisoner wept like a child.

SCHOONER SUNK.

Gloucester, Mass., Dec. 11.—The fishing schooner Andrew Leighton, with a crew of fourteen men, is supposed to have been lost in the recent gales.

KENDALLVILLE.

DESPAIR'S DOSE.

A Ruined Girl Swallows a Dose of Poisons.

But Still Lingers On This Earthly Scene.

A young lady, an employe at one of our leading hotels, has recently discovered herself to be in a condition more interesting than agreeable. It is said that she informed the author of the mischief of the disastrous state of affairs, and asked him to save her from the disgrace which would follow the exposure of the circumstances. He refused to do the square thing, and she became disconsolate, and finally, last night, in despair, resolved to take her own life. She sent the porter of the house to one of the leading drug stores and instructed him to procure her five cents worth of white precipitate. He did so and gave it to her, when she took the whole amount at one dose. Fortunately for her, white precipitate is a safe poison, and instead of sending her to immortal glory it acted as an emetic and made her deathly sick. She began vomiting and almost threw up her immortal soul. Physicians were called and she was properly treated and is now getting along nicely. The call was a tolerably close one and she will doubtless let poison alone in the future, or take a less sickening dose.

A "PUBLIC DISGRACE."

"B" Makes a Scathing Response to a Criticism on His Former Communication.

To the Editor of the SENTINEL:

I notice an alleged explanation in the Gazette this morning signed "G.," in which that individual says "the impression seems to prevail that the article in the SENTINEL of the 8th headed 'a public disgrace,' alludes to C. Orff." If that is the case, the impresion is a wrong one and as not one iota of that article pointed to an address, but to an essay, I cannot conceive where "G." found such an opinion prevailing. He says Mr. Orff made one of the very best temperance speeches ever made in that little church; and that he did "make a mash on the meeting." Probably he did. I occupied a front seat, and did not see him after he left the speaker's stand. Upon the authority of "G." I will state that C. Orff "made a mash on the meeting." Let no one forget it, and I trust the city papers will make a note of it, keep it before the people and thereby set "G." at rest. He says Mr. Orff's address had "charity for all." Queer charity, that, especially his remarks with reference to the ladies. "Saloon keepers," he said, "don't make drunkards, neither do men; but women make them. They can't bake a mince pie, nor get up a pudding without rum, and when they have a child six months old they have a six-months' 'rumling' sucking them." Noticing the ladies blush, some hiding their faces, and even the average reformed man looking sour, Mr. Orff said: "I know you don't like this; it isn't palatable; but I'LL tell the truth if this building falls." Looking around excitedly, he continued: "I could say much more, but I'll quit." Nobody said "Go on," as is the custom when a good address is cut short. His overcoat and hat were hurriedly handed him, and he left. So much for "the very best temperance speech ever made in that little church," my item about Mr. Orff's address and his "mash on the meeting."

"G." says the author of the essay is "the son of one of our most respectable citizens," etc.; that he "did not abuse the person alluded to, but merely stated that he was once as fine a looking man as walked the streets of our city, but the demon alcohol ruined him." Yes, he said that, and also that the person alluded to was "idiotic, a wreck, a disgrace to himself, his family and the community." Why didn't "G." quote this? If that essay was all right, nothing but charity in it, why are you afraid to let the impression prevail that C. Orff is the author of it? To speak thus of a cripple, in my opinion, is no credit to "the son of one of our most respectable citizens," nor to a reformed man, nor to anybody else.

In conclusion "G." advises me to "come forward once more and sign the pledge." As I have never broken the pledge, and never intend to, it is unnecessary to "come forward once more." I hope "G." will remain faithful; indeed, I do. As one good turn deserves another, I will advise "G." to put in less time at that corner drug store. "Let him that stands be careful lest he fall." B.

CONGRESSIONAL SUMMARY.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 10—SENATE—The senate confirmed the nomination of Alex. Ramsey, of Minnesota, as secretary of war. A resolution was adopted calling on the secretary of the treasury for information in regard to the revenue; also for a statement of private claims, growing out of the late war, paid since March 1st, 1861. The concurrent resolution for an adjournment on the 19th inst., was adopted. The senate went into executive session. The vice president laid before the senate a communication from the secretary of war asking an appropriation for continuing the work on government buildings connected with the war and navy department. Mr. Bayard presented a bill for the relief of Holman and Fairbanks. Cockrell introduced a resolution for a permanent claims tribunal. Morrill called for a tabulated statement of claims growing out of the late war. HOUSE—Mr. Barrows introduced a joint resolution for an amendment to prohibit polygamy. Mr. Waite reported a bill to allow all vessels to unload at any port. The house went into committee of the whole on the bill relating to the publication of the supreme court reports.

THE SENTINEL acknowledges the receipt from Hon. W. G. COLERICK, congressman from this district, of important public documents.

THE war on silver has broken out afresh. The Wall street organs are filled with denunciations of the people's dollar. But the crusade will not win. The silver dollar of 412½ grains has been placed back in the coinage of the country "for keeps."

THE financial recommendations made by JOHN SHERMAN in his annual report seem to have settled his chances, slight as they were, for the republican presidential nomination. GRANT is evidently the coming man. BLAINE cannot hope to wrest the prize from him.

THERE is a small republican boom for BEN HARRISON, of this state, for the vice presidency. Let us hope he will be nominated. He tried to carry Indiana in 1876 for governor, and again in 1878, for the senate, and was badly beaten in each instance. He can't carry this state to the republicans as the tail piece of their presidential ticket.

DEMOCRATS in Washington say openly that it is the intention of the party to abandon Indiana and to concentrate the democratic forces to add the electoral votes of New York, Connecticut and New Jersey to that of the solid south.—Grand Rapids Times.

The above information is exclusive and valuable. The democrats have as much idea of surrendering Kentucky to the radicals next year as they have of turning over Indiana. This is a reliable democratic state. With all of MORTON'S brains, ability and powers as an organizer the republicans were badly beaten in this state. Since MORTON'S death, the leadership of the party has been usurped by pigmies, and there isn't a sane republican in Indiana who has any hope of carrying the state next year. Count Indiana good for fifteen electoral votes for the democratic national ticket next year.

THE Chicago Tribune, speaking of the financial question, says:

> It is a fight sure to come, and one in which the republicans need not become embroiled, and will not, it is probable, as their policy should be to leave the field free to their opponents without taking sides with either.

The "great republican party" is in a rather ridiculous and contemptible position, after all, for an organization which has been posing for several years past as the sole champion and defense of "honest money" against the aggressions of the terrible democratic party. The Tribune advises its party to adopt a strictly "possum policy," and the senate advisory republican committee, with the exception of MORRILL, makes the same suggestion, which the republicans in congress will doubtless heed. According to the confessions of its leaders then, the republican party is neither fish, flesh nor fowl on the financial question.

GEN. WARNER, of Ohio, has introduced a bill in congress for the taxation of greenbacks. The object of the measure is to place the greenback part of the currency on exactly the same footing with gold and silver and bank notes as to taxation. Now hundreds of millions of dollars of capital, through the non-taxation of greenbacks, wrongfully escape taxation; for not merely the greenbacks themselves go untaxed, but they are made the means of escape of hundreds of millions besides, in the form of deposits and other capital, which is transferred nominally into greenbacks on the day of assessment. Greenbacks are capital; they do money's work and are money, the same as coin or bank notes, and should be subject like coin and bank notes to taxation. That is Gen. WARNER'S position. On the other hand it is claimed that it is preposterous for the government to tax its own debts. Such a power once conceded, the government might proceed to tax its bonds and treasury notes out of existence. The bill will not be passed without a great struggle, if at all.

SENATOR BAYARD'S resolution does not propose to contract or destroy the greenbacks. It merely proposes to deprive them of their legal tender feature. There have always been grave doubts of the constitutionality of the legal tender acts. The supreme court once decided the legal tender act unconstitutional, but GRANT and the republican party packed the court, and after the appointment of Judges BRADLEY and STRONG, at the instance of the Pennsylvania company and other great corporations, this decision was reversed. A case is now pending in that court which raises the question of the power of congress to issue legal tender notes in time of peace, and there is reason to believe that the Court will deny the existence of that power. Of the power of the government to issue treasury notes (not legal tender) redeemable on demand, there is no doubt, as the constitution plainly gives congress the right to "emit bills of credit." The principal objection to Senator BAYARD'S resolution is that it proposes to make treasury notes receiveable for all public dues, except customs duties. This would certainly be a grave error. The government should issue no notes which she herself proposes to discredit in any way.

STATE POLITICS.

The Franklin Democrat thinks Seymour and Hendricks would make a strong ticket.

The Michigan City Dispatch wants Bayard for president and says he could carry Indiana by a large majority.

The Elkhart Democrat says:

> "Colonel Gray is the strongest man in this section of the country for governor, and we are inclined to think that he is throughout the entire state.

The Warsaw Indianian, Butler Record and Rochester Republican endorse A. B. Ball (rep.) of Warsaw, for auditor of state.

The Huntington Herald (rep.) says:

> Judge Allen Zollars, of Fort Wayne, rushes into print and says he is for Hendricks for president on the democratic ticket in 1880. Well, what of it? Who will endorse for Zollars now?

The Madison Herald says:

> As Mr. Seymour is out of politics altogether, and Mr. Hendricks positively refuses to accept the second place on the ticket, it is hardly probable that much of a boom can be started for this ticket.

The Warsaw Indianian wants Billy Williams for governor. It also predicts that Indiana will give 15,000 republican majority next year. Whew!

The Warsaw Indianian (rep.) says:

> Wouldn't Grant and Blaine sweep the country like a prairie fire? Aye, indeed they would. Ulys Grant, Jim Blaine and Billy Williams—that would be a ticket for which every republican in Indiana could throw up his hat.

The Logansport Pharos says:

> The democratic press of the state is persistent in demanding that the Hon. William H. English shall be made chairman of the state committe. There is no doubt but Mr. English could serve his party well in that position, and perhaps it would be in his case a stepping stone to the senate.

The Warsaw National Union has the following:

> The Indiana democratic press is coming out unanimously in favor of Thomas A. Hendricks for president. The Indianapolis Sentinel advances some very powerful arguments in favor of his nomination, and it does so too without disparaging the claims or abilities of any other probable aspirants.

The Columbia City Post, which has insisted that Hendricks shall be the candidate for president, comes down thus gracefully:

> Seymour and Hendricks as the democratic presidential ticket would make success sure. It is a ticket which, for its statesmanship, high personal character, and unimpeachable integrity, would commend itself to all voters.

The Peru Sentinel says:

> It is surprising the number of men the newspapers are now electing to the presidency of the United States. Gentlemen, would it not be better for all to unite on Horatio Seymour, sr., of New York, for the first place, and Thomas A. Hendricks, of Indiana, for the second. Seymour can unite the Kelly and Robinson factions, and carry his state by a large majority, and Hendricks can walk off with Indiana by 30,000. Let's hurrah for Seymour and Hendricks.

The Elkhart Democrat gives the following important information:

> The Fort Wayne SENTINEL asks the question, "Can Hendricks carry New York?" This question is answered by all the leading papers and politicians of the state, who say that he can; and we believe, with Clarkson N. Potter as vice-president; there is no other man that the democrats could get up that would be more likely to carry New York than Indiana's favored son, Thomas A. Hendricks. The SENTINEL also wants to know whether Bayard, of Delaware, could carry Indiana. We answer no, if the opinions of some of the most prominent papers in the state are to be regarded.

PERSONAL.

John Quincy Adams recommended the metric system of Massachusetts in 1831.

The father of Gov. Colquitt, of Georgia, the Sunday School man, was a famous preacher.

Miss Leech is another American lady who is to marry a nobleman. Her bridegroom is Prince Galitzin.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, it is said, writes very slowly and corrects a great deal; he is never tired of mending or improving.

At an autograph sale in Boston, Wilkes Booth's autograph was sold for twenty-five dollars and Lincoln's for eleven dollars and a quarter.

Lord Grantley, who is married to Miss McVickar, of New York, is twenty-four years old and belongs to a family with a miserable domestic history.

Dr. I. I. Hayes said in a lecture the other evening that he believed the Bennett expedition will reach the North Pole through a substantially open sea.

The man who effected the escape of Eugenie from Paris in 1871, Dr. Evans, is an American dentist in Paris. He is to spend the holidays in the United States.

Mr. George W. Childs is having the suite of rooms in his residence in Philadelphia, to be occupied by Gen. Grant, beautifully decorated in rosewood and satin.

A scythe which Prince Bismarck once took from the hands of a peasant in a meadow and swung with vigor for a half-hour, was purchased by the historical museum of Berlin for $300.

The twin daughters born to the Viscountess Mandeville have been duly named and baptized, Mrs. William H. Vanderbilt of New York, standing as godmother to the Lady Alva Montague, and Miss de Rothschild, of London, as godmother to the Lady Alice Montague.

The Empress Eugenie, a widowed, childless, and heart-broken woman, has little comfort in her wealth which grows as if in mockery. Her late mother's will gives to her the largest share of the countess's fortune, the rest going to Eugenie's brother-in-law, the duke of Alba.

The late Mrs. Catherine Hogarth Dickens was in her youth a pretty, bright-looking young woman. In her later years she is described by an American acquaintance as a comfortable-looking matron of the English middle class, amiable but commonplace in conversation.

The origin of Mrs. Wister's German translation was as follows: One day a lady entered Mr. J. B. Lippincott's private office, and throwing down a roll of manuscript, said: "Mr. Lippincott, I want $100 for that." The publisher opened the package, read the title page of "The Old Mile's Secret," and after looking over the manuscript, said: "I'll give you $100 for that," and immediately signed a check for that amount. This was the first of those translations which have given Mrs. Wister much profit and pleasure. It was at Mr. Lippincott's suggestion that the works were "adapted" and not literally translated. Consequently they read like original works. Mrs. Wister now derives a handsome income from books.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

The treasury Wednesday purchased 260,000 ounces of silver for the Philadelphia mint.

Secretary Thompson will spend the holidays at his home in Indiana. He expects to leave Washington Friday next.

Ex-Secretary of War McCrary expects to leave Washington early next week to assume the duties of United States judge of the eighth judicial circuit.

The democratic senators held a caucus yesterday, to consider the senate patronage. The officers were exculpated from all blame in regard to the distribution of patronage and Anthony, Edmunds and Conkling, the three republican chairmen of committees, will be allowed to retain their republican messengers.

At a meeting of the house committee on banking and currency, after Mr. Buckner's amendment striking out the clause requiring a reserve of 25 percent on circulation had been adopted. Mr. Price's bill, introduced in the house yesterday, was offered as a substitute for Mr. Buckner's bill as amended by the committee. The motion to substitute was rejected, only two members voting for it, namely, Price and Crapo.

The senate has confirmed the following appointments: Horatio Sickle, pension agent, Philadelphia; Wm. H. Hayes, United States district judge for Kentucky; Chas. P. James, associate justice of the supreme court for the District of Columbia; Charles Beardsley, of Iowa, fourth auditor in the treasury; Albert Johnson, surveyor general for Colorado. Postmasters: Edward S. Tobey, Boston; Alvano F. Gibbons, Charleston, West Virginia. Ohio, Wm. H. McCoy, Cadiz; Frederick C. Wickham, Norwalk; David D. Taylor, Cambridge; Henry S. Robinson, Washington Court House. Indiana, Thaddeus Coffin, New Castle; Alfred P. Bone, Shelbyville; Mrs. Sarah Hackelman, Rushville. Michigan, Clinton Spencer, Ypsilanti. Wisconsin, Wm. P. Forsyth, Jefferson; Thomas W. Spencer, Fond du Lac.

NEWS NOTES.

Frederick O. Prince, democrat, was re-elected mayor of Boston, Tuesday.

The boats of the Memphis packet line resumed trips Tuesday, the river being again navigable for light boats.

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, John W. Garrett was unanimously elected president for the ensuing year.

The action of the Virginia legislature in removing from office disabled and crippled confederate soldiers to make positions for one white and two colored republicans at the state capital, has occasioned considerable criticism.

The riches of the Sierra Majada (Mex.) mines are rapidly developing, and valuable gold veins have been discovered. The French merchants, who are rapidly gaining in commerce, are very much exercised at the inroads of the Americans.

Zeb Ward, lessee of the Arkansas penitentiary, started Wednesday to examine the line of a proposed railroad from Little Rock to Pine Bluff. It is an assured fact that contracts for construction will close, and several hundred convicts will be put to work at once.

The hearing in the mandamus case of Andrew R. G. Smith, petitioner, vs. Edward G. Gove, secretary of state, began, on Wednesday, at Augusta Mo., in the senate chamber, before Judge Virgin. The counsel for the petitioner presented the case to the court.

During the reception of Grant at Logansport, Tuesday, the stand on which Grant and other notables were seated fell, rolling his majesty in the dust. He arose from the debris and started out with his speech when the rest of the stand went down; Grant again started his speech and this time he succeeded in finishing it.

The Ohio River improvement commission convened Wednesday. Representatives were present from Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana and Tennessee. It is expected Illinois will be represented to-morrow. The meeting was presided over by Gen. J. K. Morehead, of Pennsylvania. Twenty members were present. The commission adjourned to call upon the president.

Last week an order was entered in the city court at Chicago, directing the Western Union telegraph company to turn over the lines of the Great Western telegraph company to its receiver. An appeal was asked, and pending the consideration of the appeal the American Union telegraph proceeded to take forcible possession of the lines in Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska. Wednesday morning the appellate court issued a supercedeas restraining the receiver of the American Union from interfering with the lines. This restores them to the Western Union.

THE LUNCH ROUTE

Is Still Followed by Grant the Great.

His Speech at Louisville—Preparations at Columbus and Cincinnati.

Gen. Grant's response to Baxter and Blackburn was as follows:

> Mr. Mayor and citizens of Louisville:
> It is with great gratification that I am with you here to-day. I feel honored by the reception which you have tendered to me, as I do by the reception which I have received at the hands of our American citizens at every place where it has been my fortune to stop since my return from abroad. The receptions which I have received in foreign countries, as you have remarked, have never been extended to any other American citizen. They have been a mark of the great respect which our country as a nation is now held by the nations abroad. The study of these countries has only made me return to my own and value it more highly, as I have on frequent occassions since my return remarked. All persons visiting abroad as I have done, and seeing these countries for themselves, return to America better satisfied with their own country. There is in many countries abroad all the freedom to the citizens, practically all the freedom that we enjoy, but the resources of these countries have either been exhausted or developed to their utmost capacity. With us, we have resources which are in their infancy, and a united people we must be happy and we must grow in importance in our own estimation and the estimation of the outside world. Gentlemen, again I thank you for the reception you have extended me.

The procession formed and accompanied the party to the Louisville Hotel, where during the afternoon Grant received the city officers, ex-soldiers and others. Later he dined with Hon. Henry Watterson and a few friends.

EVENING.

The centre of the city, including the Courier-Journal office, was illuminated last evening.

The reception at the Galt House last night was a brilliant affair and was largely attended.

During the evening Mrs. Grant was the guest of Mrs. D. P. Faulds, and was called on by many ladies.

Grant left for Cincinnati this morning.

AT CINCINNATI.

Preparations for the reception of Gen. Grant to-day are all complete except the decorations. Rain fell all day and postponed all out door work of that kind. Whatever is done in that respect must be done to-day. The exercises at Music Hall will include music by the Thomas orchestra and the great organ, and a chorus of the school children. The banquet at night at the Grand Hotel will be attended by 250 guests, the number being restricted. Hon. Alphonso Taft presides, and nine regular toasts are provided.

AT COLUMBUS.

The preparations for Grant's reception at Columbus are being pushed and it is proposed to give him a big "boom."

LOVERS OF LIGHTNING.

Meeting of the Society of Electricians at Chicago.

Ohio State Grange—National Board of Trade.

At the meeting of the American Electrical Society at Chicago yesterday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Gen. Anson Stager, re-elected; vice presidents, C. H. Haskins of Milwaukee, E. P. Wright of Cleveland, O. H. Booth of Mansfield, F. L. Pope of New York, Elisha Gray of Chicago, Geo. T. Williams of Cincinnati; corresponding secretary, F. W. Jones; recording secretary, C. S. Jones; treasurer, E. B. Chandler. Prof. James C. Watson, of Ann Arbor, was elected an honorary member. W. H. Breese, a prominent London electrician, was elected to membership. Prof. H. L. Cathart read a highly instructive paper on atmospheric electricity, and a discussion on a variety of topics, interesting to the craft followed. Prof. Musely, of the Western Reserve (Ohio) College, gave an account of his researches in meterology, presenting some new theories.

OHIO GRANGERS.

The Ohio State grange yesterday elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, J. H. Brighton; overseer, T. F. Joy; lecturer, J. W. Ogden; steward, Davis Whippy; treasurer, R. Stephenson; executive committee, S. H. Ellis, A. Paddell, D. Crouse; business agent, W. H. Hill. Resolutions were adopted condemning the practice of newspapers advertising nostrums and things of an immoral nature, and authorizing agents to withdraw patronage from such newspapers. It was recommended that memorials be sent to congress asking for legislation to remove the evils of oppression in the matter of freight transportation on railroads. One hundred members took the fifth degree. The session will close to-day.

FRIENDS OF FRUIT.

The Ohio State Horticultural Society met in Tanner's hall, Cincinnati, Wednesday. There is a good exhibition of fruit, and great interest is taken in the proceedings. At the session Wednesday evening an address of welcome was made by J. K. Nyesse, president of the stark county horticultural society, which was responded to by Dr. J. A. Warder, president of the State Horticultural Society, who also delivered the annual address, which was followed by an essay by Levi Stump, on "The History and Extent of Pompology in Stark County." The meeting will continue until Friday.

BOARDS OF TRADE.

Two boards of trade met in Washington, Wednesday, one, the United States Board of Trade, of which Nathan Appleton, of Boston, is president, and the other the National Board of Trade, Fred. Farley, of Philadelphia, president. About fifteen members are in attendance at the meeting of the National Board, representing fifteen local boards of trade and chambers of commerce. A communication was received from the United States Board of Trade, requesting the appointment of a committee to confer with one from their body relative to harmonizing the mode of the two organizations. The request was then complied with.

The United States Board of Trade was called to order by President Appleton. After the usual routine business, a conference committee was appointed to meet a similar committee from the national board.

The board adopted a memorial to congress, calling attention to the subject of transportation of animals on railroads, and requesting the passage of a law with reference thereto. The board adjourned until Monday.

Personally appeared before me, Robert A. Meers, a notary public in and for the county of Allen and state of Indiana, William R. Nelson, one of the publishers of the Fort Wayne "Daily Sentinel," who being duly sworn testified that the above is a true statement of the circulation of the "Sentinel" for the above dates.

ROBERT A. MEERS, Notary Public.

CONGRESSIONAL SUMMARY.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 10—SENATE—The senate confirmed the nomination of Alex. Ramsey, of Minnesota, as secretary of war. A resolution was adopted calling on the secretary of the treasury for information in regard to the revenue; also for a statement of private claims, growing out of the late war, paid since March 1st, 1861. The concurrent resolution for an adjournment on the 19th inst., was adopted. The senate went into executive session. The vice president laid before the senate a communication from the secretary of war asking an appropriation for continuing the work on government buildings connected with the war and navy department. Mr. Bayard presented a bill for the relief of Holman and Fairbanks. Cockrell introduced a resolution for a permanent claims tribunal. Morrill called for a tabulated statement of claims growing out of the late war. HOUSE—Mr. Burrows introduced a joint resolution for an amendment to prohibit polygamy. Mr. Waite reported a bill to allow all vessels to unload at any port. The house went into committee of the whole on the bill relating to the publication of the supreme court reports.

THE SENTINEL acknowledges the receipt from Hon. W. G. COLERICK, congressman from this district, of important public documents.

THE war on silver has broken out afresh. The Wall street organs are filled with denunciations of the people's dollar. But the crusade will not win. The silver dollar of 412½ grains has been placed back in the coinage of the country "for keeps."

THE financial recommendations made by JOHN SHERMAN in his annual report seem to have settled his chances, slight as they were, for the republican presidential nomination. GRANT is evidently the coming man. BLAINE cannot hope to wrest the prize from him.

THERE is a small republican boom for BEN HARRISON, of this state, for the vice presidency. Let us hope he will be nominated. He tried to carry Indiana in 1876 for governor, and again in 1878, for the senate, and was badly beaten in each instance. He can't carry this state to the republicans as the tail piece of their presidential ticket.

DEMOCRATS in Washington say openly that it is the intention of the party to abandon Indiana and to concentrate the democratic forces to add the electoral votes of New York, Connecticut and New Jersey to that of the solid south.—Grand Rapids Times.

The above information is exclusive and valuable. The democrats have as much idea of surrendering Kentucky to the radicals next year as they have of turning over Indiana. This is a reliable democratic state. With all of MORTON's brains, ability and powers as an organizer the republicans were badly beaten in this state. Since MORTON's death, the leadership of the party has been usurped by pigmies, and there isn't a sane republican in Indiana who has any hope of carrying the state next year. Count Indiana good for fifteen electoral votes for the democratic national ticket next year.

THE Chicago Tribune, speaking of the financial question, says:

> It is a fight sure to come, and one in which the republicans need not become embroiled, and will not, it is probable, as their policy should be to leave the field free to their opponents without taking sides with either.

The "great republican party" is in a rather ridiculous and contemptible position, after all, for an organization which has been posing for several years past as the sole champion and defense of "honest money" against the aggressions of the terrible democratic party. The Tribune advises its party to adopt a strictly "possum policy," and the senate advisory republican committee, with the exception of MORRILL, makes the same suggestion, which the republicans in congress will doubtless heed. According to the confessions of its leaders then, the republican party is neither fish, flesh nor fowl on the financial question.

GEN. WARNER, of Ohio, has introduced a bill in congress for the taxation of greenbacks. The object of the measure is to place the greenback part of the currency on exactly the same footing with gold and silver and bank notes as to taxation. Now hundreds of millions of dollars of capital, through the non-taxation of greenbacks, wrongfully escape taxation; for not merely the greenbacks themselves go untaxed, but they are made the means of escape of hundreds of millions besides, in the form of deposits and other capital, which is transferred nominally into greenbacks on the day of assessment. Greenbacks are capital; they do money's work and are money, the same as coin or bank notes, and should be subject like coin and bank notes to taxation. That is Gen. WARNER's position. On the other hand it is claimed that it is preposterous for the government to tax its own debts. Such a power once conceded, the government might proceed to tax its bonds and treasury notes out of existence. The bill will not be passed without a great struggle, if at all.

SENATOR BAYARD's resolution does not propose to contract or destroy the greenbacks. It merely proposes to deprive them of their legal tender feature. There have always been grave doubts of the constitutionality of the legal tender acts. The supreme court once decided the legal tender act unconstitutional, but GRANT and the republican party packed the court, and after the appointment of Judges BRADLEY and STRONG, at the instance of the Pennsylvania company and other great corporations, this decision was reversed. A case is now pending in that court which raises the question of the power of congress to issue legal tender notes in time of peace, and there is reason to believe that the Court will deny the existence of that power. Of the power of the government to issue treasury notes (not legal tender) redeemable on demand, there is no doubt, as the constitution plainly gives congress the right to "emit bills of credit." The principal objection to Senator BAYARD's resolution is that it proposes to make treasury notes receiveable for all public dues, except customs duties. This would certainly be a grave error. The government should issue no notes which she herself proposes to discredit in any way.

STATE POLITICS.

The Franklin Democrat thinks Seymour and Hendricks would make a strong ticket.

The Michigan City Dispatch wants Bayard for president and says he could carry Indiana by a large majority.

The Elkhart Democrat says:

> Colonel Gray is the strongest man in this section of the country for governor, and we are inclined to think that he is throughout the entire state.

The Warsaw Indianian, Butler Record and Rochester Republican endorse A. B. Ball (rep.) of Warsaw, for auditor of state.

The Huntington Herald (rep.) says:

> Judge Allen Zollars, of Fort Wayne, rushes into print and says he is for Hendricks for president on the democratic ticket in 1880. Well, what of it? Who will endorse for Zollars now?

The Madison Herald says:

> As Mr. Seymour is out of politics altogether, and Mr. Hendricks positively refuses to accept the second place on the ticket, it is hardly probable that much of a boom can be started for this ticket.

The Warsaw Indianian wants Billy Williams for governor. It also predicts that Indiana will give 15,000 republican majority next year. Whew!

The Warsaw Indianian (rep.) says:

> Wouldn't Grant and Blaine sweep the country like a prairie fire? Aye, indeed they would. Ulys Grant, Jim Blaine and Billy Williams—that would be a ticket for which every republican in Indiana could throw up his hat.

The Logansport Pharos says:

> The democratic press of the state is persistent in demanding that the Hon. William H. English shall be made chairman of the state committe. There is no doubt but Mr. English could serve his party well in that position, and perhaps it would be in his case a stepping stone to the senate.

The Warsaw National Union has the following:

> The Indiana democratic press is coming out unanimously in favor of Thomas A. Hendricks for president. The Indianapolis Sentinel advances some very powerful arguments in favor of his nomination, and it does so too without disparaging the claims or abilities of any other probable aspirants.

The Columbia City Post, which has insisted that Hendricks shall be the candidate for president, comes down thus gracefully:

> Seymour and Hendricks as the democratic presidential ticket, would make success sure. It is a ticket which, for its statesmanship, high personal character, and unimpeachable integrity, would commend itself to all voters.

The Peru Sentinel says:

> It is surprising the number of men the newspapers are now electing to the presidency of the United States. Gentlemen, would it not be better for all to unite on Horatio Seymour, sr., of New York, for the first place, and Thomas A. Hendricks, of Indiana, for the second. Seymour can unite the Kelly and Robinson factions, and carry his state by a large majority, and Hendricks can walk off with Indiana by 30,000. Let's hurrah for Seymour and Hendricks.

The Elkhart Democrat gives the following important information:

> The Fort Wayne SENTINEL asks the question, "Can Hendricks carry New York?" This question is answered by all the leading papers and politicians of the state, who say that he can, and we believe with Clarkson N. Potter as vice-president; there is no other man that the democrats could put up that would be more likely to carry New York than Indiana's favored son, Thomas A. Hendricks. The SENTINEL also wants to know whether Bayard, of Delaware, could carry Indiana. We answer no, if the opinions of some of the most prominent papers in the state are to be regarded.

PERSONAL.

John Quincy Adams recommended the metric system of Massachusetts in 1831.

The father of Gov. Colquitt, of Georgia, the Sunday School man, was a famous preacher.

Miss Leech is another American lady who is to marry a nobleman. Her bridegroom is Prince Galitzin.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, it is said, writes very slowly and corrects a great deal; he is never tired of mending or improving.

At an autograph sale in Boston, Wilkes Booth's autograph was sold for twenty-five dollars and Lincoln's for eleven dollars and a quarter.

Lord Grantley, who is married to Miss McVickar, of New York, is twenty-four years old and belongs to a family with a miserable domestic history.

Dr. I. I. Hayes said in a lecture the other evening that he believed the Bennett expedition will reach the North Pole through a substantially open sea.

The man who effected the escape of Eugenie from Paris in 1871, Dr. Evans, is an American dentist in Paris. He is to spend the holidays in the United States.

Mr. George W. Childs is having the suite of rooms in his residence in Philadelphia, to be occupied by Gen. Grant, beautifully decorated in rosewood and satin.

A scythe which Prince Bismarck once took from the hands of a peasant in a meadow and swung with vigor for a half-hour, was purchased by the historical museum of Berlin for $300.

The twin daughters born to the Viscountess Mandeville have been daily named and baptized, Mrs. William H. Vanderbilt of New York, standing as godmother to the Lady Alva Montague, and Miss de Rothschild, of London, as godmother to the Lady Alice Montague.

The Empress Eugenie, a widowed, childless, and heart-broken woman, has little comfort in her wealth which grows as if in mockery. Her late mother's will gives to her the largest share of the countess's fortune, the rest going to Eugenie's brother-in-law, the duke of Alba.

The late Mrs. Catherine Hogarth Dickens was in her youth a pretty, bright-looking young woman. In her later years she is described by an American acquaintance as a comfortable-looking matron of the English middle class, amiable but commonplace in conversation.

The origin of Mrs. Wister's German translation was as follows: One day a lady entered Mr. J. B. Lippincott's private office, and throwing down a roll of manuscript, said: "Mr. Lippincott, I want $100 for that." The publisher opened the package, read the title page of "The Old Mlle's Secret," and after looking over the manuscript, said: "I'll give you $100 for that," and immediately signed a check for that amount. This was the first of those translations which have given Mrs. Wister much profit and pleasure. It was at Mr. Lippincott's suggestion that the works were "adapted" and not literally translated. Consequently they read like original works. Mrs. Wister now derives a handsome income from books.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

The treasury Wednesday purchased 260,000 ounces of silver for the Philadelphia mint.

Secretary Thompson will spend the holidays at his home in Indiana. He expects to leave Washington Friday next.

Ex-Secretary of War McCrary expects to leave Washington early next week to assume the duties of United States judge of the eighth judicial circuit.

The democratic senators held a caucus yesterday, to consider the senate patronage. The officers were exculpated from all blame in regard to the distribution of patronage and Anthony, Edmunds and Conkling, the three republican chairmen of committees, will be allowed to retain their republican messengers.

At a meeting of the house committee on banking and currency, after Mr. Buckner's amendment striking out the clause requiring a reserve of 25 percent on circulation had been adopted. Mr. Price's bill, introduced in the house yesterday, was offered as a substitute for Mr. Buckner's bill as amended by the committee. The motion to substitute was rejected, only two members voting for it, namely, Price and Crapo.

The senate has confirmed the following appointments: Horatio Sickle, pension agent, Philadelphia; Wm. H. Hayes, United States district judge for Kentucky; Chas. P. James, associate justice of the supreme court for the District of Columbia; Charles Beardsley, of Iowa, fourth auditor in the treasury; Albert Johnson, surveyor general for Colorado. Postmasters: Edward S. Tobey, Boston; Alvano F. Gibbons, Charleston, West Virginia. Ohio, Wm. H. McCoy, Cadiz; Frederick C. Wickham, Norwalk; David D. Taylor, Cambridge; Henry S. Robinson, Washington Court House. Indiana, Thaddeus Coffin, New Castle; Alfred P. Bone, Shelbyville; Mrs. Sarah Hackelman, Rushville. Michigan, Clinton Spencer, Ypsilanti. Wisconsin, Wm. P. Forsyth, Jefferson; Thomas W. Spencer, Fond du Lac.

NEWS NOTES.

Frederick O. Prince, democrat, was re-elected mayor of Boston, Tuesday.

The boats of the Memphis packet line resumed trips Tuesday, the river being again navigable for light boats.

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, John W. Garrett was unanimously elected president for the ensuing year.

The action of the Virginia legislature in removing from office disabled and crippled confederate soldiers to make positions for one white and two colored republicans at the state capital, has occasioned considerable criticism.

The riches of the Sierra Majada (Mex.) mines are rapidly developing, and valuable gold veins have been discovered. The French merchants, who are rapidly gaining in commerce, are very much exercised at the inroads of the Americans.

Zeb Ward, lessee of the Arkansas penitentiary, started Wednesday to exame the line of a proposed railroad from Little Rock to Pine Bluff. It is an assured fact that contracts for construction will close, and several hundred convicts will be put to work at once.

The hearing in the mandamus case of Andrew R. G. Smith, petitioner, vs. Edward G. Gove, secretary of state, began, on Wednesday, at Augusta Me., in the senate chamber, before Judge Virgin. The counsel for the petitioner presented the case to the court.

During the reception of Grant at Logansport, Tuesday, the stand on which Grant and other notables were seated fell, rolling his majesty in the dust. He arose from the debris and started out with his speech when the rest of the stand went down; Grant again started his speech and this time he succeeded in finishing it.

The Ohio River improvement commission convened Wednesday. Representatives were present from Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana and Tennessee. It is expected Illinois will be represented to-morrow. The meeting was presided over by Gen. J. K. Morehead, of Pennsylvania. Twenty members were present. The commission adjourned to call upon the president.

Last week an order was entered in the city court at Chicago, directing the Western Union telegraph company to turn over the lines of the Great Western telegraph company to its receiver. An appeal was asked, and pending the consideration of the appeal the American Union telegraph proceeded to take forcible possession of the lines in Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska. Wednesday morning the appellate court issued a supercedeas restraining the receiver of the American Union from interfering with the lines. This restores them to the Western Union.

THE LUNCH ROUTE

Is Still Followed by Grant the Great.

His Speech at Louisville—Preparations at Columbus and Cincinnati.

Gen. Grant's response to Baxter and Blackburn was as follows:

> Mr. Mayor and citizens of Louisville:
> It is with great gratification that I am with you here to-day. I feel honored by the reception which you have tendered to me, as I do by the reception which I have received at the hands of our American citizens at every place where it has been my fortune to stop since my return from abroad. The receptions which I have received in foreign countries, as you have remarked, have never been extended to any other American citizen. They have been a mark of the great respect which our country as a nation is now held by the nations abroad. The study of these countries has only made me return to my own and value it more highly, as I have on frequent occassions since my return remarked. All persons visiting abroad as I have done, and seeing these countries for themselves, return to America better satisfied with their own country. There is in many countries abroad all the freedom to the citizens, practically all the freedom that we enjoy, but the resources of these countries have either been exhausted or developed to their utmost capacity. With us, we have resources which are in their infancy, and a united people we must be happy and we must grow in importance in our own estimation and the estimation of the outside world. Gentlemen, again I thank you for the reception you have extended me.

The procession formed and accompanied the party to the Louisville Hotel, where during the afternoon Grant received the city officers, ex-soldiers and others. Later he dined with Hon. Henry Watterson and a few friends.

EVENING.

The centre of the city, including the Courier-Journal office, was illuminated last evening.

The reception at the Galt House last night was a brilliant affair and was largely attended.

During the evening Mrs. Grant was the guest of Mrs. D. P. Faulds, and was called on by many ladies.

Grant left for Cincinnati this morning.

AT CINCINNATI.

Preparations for the reception of Gen. Grant to-day are all complete except the decorations. Rain fell all day and postponed all out door work of that kind. Whatever is done in that respect must be done to-day. The exercises at Music Hall will include music by the Thomas orchestra and the great organ, and a chorus of the school children. The banquet at night at the Grand Hotel will be attendeded by 250 guests, the number being restricted. Hon. Alphonso Taft presides, and nine regular toasts are provided.

AT COLUMBUS.

The preparations for Grant's reception at Columbus are being pushed and it is proposed to give him a big "boom."

LOVERS OF LIGHTNING.

Meeting of the Society of Electricians at Chicago.

Ohio State Grange—National Board of Trade.

At the meeting of the American Electrical Society at Chicago yesterday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Gen. Anson Stager, re elected; vice presidents, C. H. Haskins of Milwaukee, E. P. Wright of Cleveland, O. H. Booth of Mansfield, F. L. Pope of New York, Elisha Gray of Chicago, Geo. T. Williams of Cincinnati; corresponding secretary, F. W. Jones; recording secretary, C. S. Jones; treasurer, E. B. Chandler. Prof. James C. Watson, of Ann Arbor, was elected an honorary member. W. H. Breese, a prominent London electrician, was elected to membership. Prof. H. L. Cathart read a highly instructive paper on atmospheric electricity, and a discussion on a variety of topics, interesting to the craft followed. Prof. Mosely, of the Western Reserve (Ohio) College, gave an account of his researches in meterology, presenting some new theories.

OHIO GRANGERS.

The Ohio State grange yesterday elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, J. H. Brighton; overseer, T. F. Joy; lecturer, J. W. Ogden; steward, Davis Whippy; treasurer, R. Stephenson; executive committee, S. H. Ellis, A. Paddell, D. Crouse; business agent, W. H. Hill. Resolutions were adopted condemning the practice of newspapers advertising nostrums and things of an immoral nature, and authorizing agents to withdraw patronage from such newspapers. It was recommended that memorials be sent to congress asking for legislation to remove the evils of oppression in the matter of freight transportation on railroads. One hundred members took the fifth degree. The session will close to-day.

FRIENDS OF FRUIT.

The Ohio State Horticultural Society met in Tanner's hall, Cincinnati, Wednesday. There is a good exhibition of fruit, and great interest is taken in the proceedings. At the session Wednesday evening an address of welcome was made by J. K. Nyesse, president of the stark county horticultural society, which was responded to by Dr. J. A. Warder, president of the State Horticultural Society, who also delivered the annual address, which was followed by an essay by Levi Stump, on "The History and Extent of Pompology in Stark County." The meeting will continue until Friday.

BOARDS OF TRADE.

Two boards of trade met in Washington, Wednesday, one, the United States Board of Trade, of which Nathan Appleton, of Boston, is president, and the other the National Board of Trade, Fred. Farley, of Philadelphia, president. About fifteen members are in attendance at the meeting of the National Board, representing fifteen local boards of trade and chambers of commerce. A communication was received from the United States Board of Trade, requesting the appointment of a committee to confer with one from their body relative to harmonizing the mode of the two organizations. The request was then complied with.

The United States Board of Trade was called to order by President Appleton. After the usual routine business, a conference committee was appointed to meet a similar committee from the national board.

The board adopted a memorial to congress, calling attention to the subject of transportation of animals on railroads, and requesting the passage of a law with reference thereto. The board adjourned until Monday.

STATE NEWS.

Evansville wants a new gas company.

Scarlet fever and diphtheria are quiet prevalent at Logansport.

The publishers of the Plaindealer at Wabash are about to start a daily.

A starch factory is wanted at South Bend. The scheme is being agitated.

William Deal was killed by lightning, near Indianapoles, on Tuesday.

Evansville has just issued $65,000 in city bonds in aid of a new rail road.

David Torpy, of Bedford, was arrested Tuesday, by a deputy United States marshal, charged with perjury.

The wheat crop of the southern part of the state is reported in fine condition, with a large increase of acreage over last year.

Tuesday evening a tree fell upon Isaac Pitts, of Hagerstown, breaking his arm and bruising him up otherwise in a very serious manner.

Abram Winn, a farmer living fourteen miles northeast of Terre Haute, was killed by lightning, Tuesday, while at work in his corn-crib.

James Long, aged eighteen, was killed at Vincennes, Tuesday, while coupling two passenger coaches on the Cairo and Vincennes Railroad.

Artz, the missing Lafayette watchman, has returned. He says that he was warned away by two men, who threatened to kill him unless he left.

The first number of the Island Park Assembly Journal, published at Lagrange, has found its way to our table. The Journal is devoted to religious literature.

A Thornton saloon was raided on Sunday night. The billiard table, mirrors, decanters and glasses were demolished, and the liquor all turned ount on the floor.

An accident by which several freight cars were thrown from the track, occurred near the junction at Lafayette on Tuesday. An open switch was the cause.

The slander suit of Spencer Wiley vs. Jerome Wiley, at Brookville, was decided in the circuit court, on Tuesday, a verdict of $165 being given in favor of the plaintiff.

Chas. Engle, an old conductor on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad, in getting on his train Tuesday, slipped and fell, striking his head, breaking his nose and otherwise seriously injuring himself.

The case of the First National Bank of Vevay vs. Elijah Walsh and others, on a change of venue from Switzerland to the Jefferson circuit court, which has been on trial for several days, resulted in a verdict of $1,645 for the plaintiff.

A bold robbery was committed at the residence of Wm. Colter, in Peru, Tuesday night. Mr. Colter started up stairs to retire, when he met a man on the stairs. The man threw a coat over Colter's head and made his escape. About $200 were taken.

Jacob Metzgar, living two miles east of Elkhart, dropped dead Tuesday morning while going from his house to the barn. He was an old resident, and was one of the first to go to California during the gold fever, where he accumulated a large fortune.

The old and well known lightning rod man got in his work on the Board of the State Insane Asylum, and presented a bill of $6,000 for rodding the building. The Board couldn't see it that way and cut the bill down to $700, which is all they propose to pay.

B. F. Bently, part proprietor of a saw mill in Carthage, six miles south of Knightstown, and son of Ephraim Bently, commissioner of Hancock county, was fatally injured, Tuesday, by being caught and wound around a shaft, and both arms and legs broken. His body was horribly mangled.

The annual convention of the delegate state board of agriculture will commence Tuesday, January 6th Among the speakers whose names appear upon the programme are Prof. C. L. Ingersoll, Prof. H. H. Wiley, of Purdue University, T. A. Goodwin, Col. W. W. Granger, Rob't Mitchell, John Sutherland and J. J. W. Billingsley.

While attending to her household duties on Saturday, Mrs. Warren fell dead in Wabash county.—Lafayette Courier. It was a fortunate thing that she was not standing near the line at the time, or she might possibly have fallen over into Miami county. At any rate she had plenty of scope and territory to fall. If it had been a Lafayette girl, her feet would have died in another county, any how after she flopped over.

The celebrated Levicy–Burns–Myers imbroglio, which has so long engaged the attention of Greensburg, and indeed the whole county, has abruptly reached a peaceful end, and a compromise has been effected, and Levicy, the father of the much-wronged Frances, agrees to withdraw the two civil suits, the one against Myers for seduction, and the other against Burns for procuring an abortion on his daughter.

Tuesday morning, Alonzo Buck, of South Bend, was looking at a revolver when his wife came running up to him playfully and standing close to him opened wide her mouth and said, "Shoot me right in the mouth." Alonzo drew up the revolver cocked, when it went off, the ball passing into Mrs. Buck's open mouth, and lodged a little to the right and in front of the spinal column. A surgeon was called, but failed to find the ball, and it is feared the shot may prove fatal.

Elixir Vitæ.

A gentleman who has been taking Warner's Safe Bitters says it comes nearest to being the fabled Elixir Vitæ of any thing yet discovered. There is nothing equal to this and the Safe Tonic for purifying the blood. 11

The Fort Wayne Sentinel

Has the Largest Circulation of any Daily or Weekly Newspaper in Northern Indiana.

The Daily publishes the Associated Press Dispatches, and contains as much matter as any daily paper in the State outside of Indianapolis.

Delivered to subscribers either by mail or carrier, at 25 cents per month. It is the Cheapest Daily Newspaper in the World, and the Best Advertising Medium in Northern Indiana.

The Weekly is a 7-column 8 or 10-page paper, and is the largest newspaper in the State.

ESTABLISHED IN 1833.

THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF CITY AND COUNTY.

The Fort Wayne Sentinel,

DAILY AND WEEKLY,

OFFICE, 107 CALHOUN STREET,

Fort Wayne, Ind., Dec. 11, 1879.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

Daily Sentinel—One Square—One Insertion, 50 cents; One Week, $1.75; One Month, $4.00; Three Months, $6.75; Six Months, $12.00; Twelve Months, $22,50.

Advertisements inserted every other day, twice a week, or once a week, will be charged respectively three-fifths, one-half, and one-third full-time rates.

Advertisements in Weekly Sentinel, one-third the price of Daily for an equal period of time.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co., of New York, one of the largest advertising agencies in the United States, in a circular recently issued, say: "The newspapers most largely patronized by advertisers charge rates, for the insertion of advertisements, which seem to be based upon the idea, that one cent a line for each line of space, or 14 cents per inch for a short inch of space, in each thousand copies issued, is a fair price for advertising."

A "fair price" for an inch of space in the Sentinel, for one year, on this basis, would be $187.82. The annual rate for one inch space in the Daily Sentinel is $22.50, or less than one-eighth of a cent a line for each thousand issued.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co., the advertising agents before referred to, in their circular, propose to insert a one inch advertisement in 1,050 newspapers, having a total circulation of 825,000, for sixteen months, for $1,600, payable $100 a month. This would be sixteen cents an inch per month per thousand of weekly circulation. They say: "We find it necessary to explain that the above is a net price. No commission from it can be allowed. Have refused an order for $5,800, which hinged upon a concession of 5 per cent. This is the cheapest advertising we have ever been able to offer, and the price cannot be reduced a single penny."

The annual rate charged by the Sentinel is about seven cents an inch per month per thousand of weekly circulation,—less than one half what Rowell & Co. call "the cheapest advertising they have ever been able to offer."

The average circulation of the Daily Sentinel is now upwards of 4,400, and of the Weekly 2,200. The Weekly circulates almost exclusively with farmers. In addition to 288 mail subscribers, and what are sold by news boys, the Daily Sentinel is regularly delivered to subscribers in this city and neighboring towns as follows: Fort Wayne, 2,768; Monroeville, 46; New Haven, 20; Huntertown, 9; Pierceton, 49; Arcola, 24; Larwill, 36; Columbia City, 121; Coesse, 10; Bourbon, 53; Plymouth, 35; Warsaw, 128; Etna Green, 5; Atwood, 9; Delphos, 50; Elida, 30; Van Wert, 141; Maples, 14; Middlepoint, 15; Convoy, 20; Geneva, 13; Decatur, 86; Huntington, 165; Lagro, 38; Antioch, 20; Peru, 160; Bluffton, 142; Hartford City, 52; Inwood, 19; Montpelier, 36; Roanoke, 30; Wabash, 80; Ossian, 35; Auburn, 69; Waterloo, 43; Pleasant Lake, 26. Total regular and mail subscribers, 4,355.

The field in which a newspaper circulates should be considered by advertisers in making contracts. The Daily Sentinel circulates in every railroad town within a radius of seventy-five miles of Fort Wayne. No such advertising medium has ever before been offered to Fort Wayne Merchants.

The Sentinel will duplicate any advertising contract made with any newspaper in the United States, taking circulation as the basis of the charge for space, whether the paper is the New York Herald, Chicago Times, or the smallest country weekly.

A very low estimate of the cost of printing and distributing circulars, in very large quantities, is $1.25 per thousand. The DAILY SENTINEL prints and circulates, on an average, 4,400 papers per day, or 1,370,000 per year. A six inch advertisement in the DAILY SENTINEL, one year, costs the advertiser $135.00. The cost of printing and distributing the same number of circulars would be, at $1.25 per thousand, $1,700.00, or thirteen times the cost of advertising in the SENTINEL.

NELSON & MORSS.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

Matthew Havignon, a section hand, was run over and killed in Toledo, Wednesday.

The governor of New York has reprieved Greenfield till January 20th. He was to be hanged Friday next.

The ship Calliope, which arrived in New York Wednesday, picked up the missing boat of the bark Edith, with the captain and four seamen. They were previously reported lost.

Albert Gilbert, assistant United States appraiser at New York, was arrested Wednesday, charged with complicity in various custom house frauds recently unearthed. Bail was fixed at $5,000.

An explosion of gas in a sewer on Jefferson street, Oakland, Cal., Wednesday, extended several blocks. One house was almost completely wrecked. Many others were damaged. A boy named Johnny Beach was badly burned.

It is stated that Johnny Dwyer, of Brooklyn, the champion heavy weight fighter and Paddy Ryan, formerly of Troy, fought at Minola, L. I., on Wednesday, and that Dwyer came off victor, after nineteen rounds had been fought.

The grand jury of Wayne county, O., has found twenty indictments, among them John Camaha, James Saddler, Anthony McGowan, sr., and Anthony McGowan, jr., for the murder of John Tormie, at the fair on the 2nd of October last.

The hardest storm in the history of the Northern Pacific Railroad, prevails all along the line from Brunswick to Duluth, over an area 400 miles square. The snow is a foot deep on a level and drifts are four feet deep. Trains are all delayed and business in the towns stopped. It is feared that casualties to settlers in exposed portions will result.

Tuesday night burglars effected an entrance into the opera house store at Alliance, O., by cutting a pane of glass out of the door in the building. The police discovered them tying up a large quantity of silks, but before they could make the arrest, the burglars became frightened and made their escape, leaving the goods behind. Several shots were fired at them but with no effect.

George Rust, the farmer living about five miles north of Springfield, O., who made such a desperate attempt to shuffle some weeks ago by cutting his throat with a razor, but recovered by careful nursing, made a second attempt Tuesday, by deliberately sawing his left arm half off with a butcher-knife, severing the leaders and the radial and ulner arteries, and nearly bled to death before the doctor arrived. If he recovers an application will be made for admission to the insane asylum.

A severe wind storm prevailed over the town of Renick, Randolph county, Missouri, Wednesday. The residence of Byrd Ryle was torn to pieces, every member of the family being more or less injured, and Mr. Ryle fatally. The house of Joe Patrick was blown down and Mrs. Wright, a visitor, so severely hurt that she died. The dwelling of Noah Burkholder was torn to pieces. Mrs. Burkholder was seriously wounded. Several other houses were considerably injured, and fences, grain, stock, trees, etc., destroyed.

A most dastardly outrage took place at Holliston, Mass., Tuesday. As Mrs. Edna Chale was passing Elm street she noticed a man at the street corner who seemed as though avoiding being seen. When she had gone a little way she heard footsteps following. Soon after she was suddenly seized from behind and struck a severe blow. She screamed for help, when the ruffian forced her head to the ground and began tearing her clothes from her person. Soon recovering from her partial stupor she again screamed, and succeeded in attracting the attention of a passing team, whose occupants, being ladies, went in search of male assistance. This was soon obtained, and when they arrived they found that the lady had fainted. As soon as she recovered consciousness she said that as soon as the rascal heard the team going in search of assistance he ran through the graveyard. He said not a word, and had on a mask which concealed his features.

Poverty and Suffering.

"I was dragged down with debt, poverty and suffering for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged, until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have seen a sick day since, and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost, I know it. A Workingman."

FOREIGN FLASHES.

Ex-Empress Eugenie has arrived at Chiselhurst.

The statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany shows an increase of specie of 10,500,000 marks.

The federal assembly at Berne has elected Dr. Ewetly, of Canton Aarqui, president of the confederation for 1880.

The report that Leroyer has tendered his resignation as French minister of justice, has been semi-officially contradicted.

The steamer Roscommon, from Liverpool, Nov. 13, for Havana, capsized and sunk at sea. Six of the crew were drowned.

The mill and factory owners of Arbroath, Scotland, have agreed to restore the wages ruling last January. The flax spinning works in Perthshire and Fifeshire, Scotland concede an advance of 5 percent in wages.

A grand review took place at St. Petersburg Tuesday to commemorate the founding of the order of St. George. In the evening a banquet was given, at which the czar proposed the health of Emperor William, saying: "My constant friend, the oldest knight of St. George."

Great excitement prevails at St. Petersburg. The gen d' armes and police forces have been largely increased. They incessantly patrol the streets, and are especially numerous and vigilant near the winter palace. These circumstances indicate that further attempts upon the life of the czar are anticipated.

Some Kohistanis have surrendered. An influential native agent who was collecting supplies at Maidan, Afghanistan, has been murdered. That part of the country is much disturbed, and it is reported the rebels are collecting in force there. Two brigades will march upon Maidan immediately, under command of Generals Baker and McPherson.

The new Spanish ministry has been finally constituted, as follows: Premier, Canovas Del Castello; minister of foreign affairs, Toreno; minister of war, Echeveria; minister of marine, Admiral Polon; minister of justice, Bulgala; minister of the interior, Romaldo; minister of works, Lazala; minister of colonies, Eldnayen; minister of finance, Marquis De Grivora.

Why Doesn't He Die?

John McEvoy, of Paterson, N. J., aged fifteen, crawled under the table of a circular saw for sawdust. The saw had been stopped to mend the belt, and the man in charge, not noticing the boy, started the saw. The next minute he saw a hat fly from under the table. He stopped the machine and looked under the table, and saw the boy with his head almost literally sawed in two. The saw had run from near the back of the left ear across the top of the head, down through the forehead between the eye and the nose, without injuring the eyeball, and through the nose, so that one nostril was sawed clear from the other. The saw penetrated the brain around the ear to the depth of from one and a half to three inches. The boy retained his consciousness while he was being taken to the office of Dr. Garnett, where the scalp was sewed up. The physician could see the pulsations of the brain through the opening. The lad said the pain was very great, but he refrained from crying, and he pinched the nails of his hands into the palms until the blood ran. At the Sister's Hospital he was able to lift a glass of stimulant to his lips. Dr. Marsh probed the brain to the depth of nearly two inches without touching the bottom of the cut made by the saw. The boy was able to talk intelligently, but he said it pained him to converse, and he was kept as quiet as possible. He is yet alive and conscious to-night.

PROFITABLE STOCK INVESTMENTS.

Before Messrs. Lawrence & Co., the New York bankers, inaugurated the combination system of operating in stocks, it was often very difficult for inexperienced operators, or even old stagers, to deal profitably by their single handed ventures. Now the field is open to every one for successful operations, and capital in any amounts, from $10 to $20,000, can be used with equal proportionate profit. Instead of distracting efforts among many customers, the orders of thousands are concentrated into one vast pool and co-operated for the benefit of all, dividing profits pro rata every month. A prominent citizen of San Francisco made $1,264.83 from an investment of $800 last month. Other customers are doing better still. $25 pays $125 during the month, $200 returns $1,200, or 6 percent on the stock, and soon as the market moves. New circulars contains "two unerring rules for success," and full instructions for any one to operate profitably. All the advantages of unlimited capital and carefully manipulation are secured by the combination method. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Deposits received. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, New York City.

THE READY FAMILY SOAP MAKER:
LEWIS' LYE
98 PER CENT. PURE.
(Patented.)
FINELY POWDERED.
HIGHLY PERFUMED.

The strongest and purest Lye made. Will make 12 pounds of the best Perfumed Hard Soap in 20 minutes without boiling.

The best water-softener made.

The best disinfectant.

The following are some of the advantages obtained by using Lewis' 98 Per Cent. Powdered Lye:

First. It is packed in an iron can with a slip or removable lid, easily taken off and leaving the contents exposed, thereby saving the trouble, annoyance, and danger (from flying particles), as with other Lyes, which, being solid in the cans, must be broken with a hammer to get the Lye out.

Second. It being a fine powder, you can remove the lid and pour out all the contents, being always ready for use.

Third. A teaspoonful or more can be used, as in water-softening, scrubbing, etc., and the lid returned to the can, and thereby save the balance of contents. With other Lyes all must be dissolved at once and used in a short time, or the strength is gone.

Fourth. Absolute purity. Free from all adulterations.

Fifth. The best Soap can be made in from ten to twenty minutes with this Lye.

Sixth. No failure is possible in making Soap with this Lye when the simple directions given are followed.

Seventh. One can of this Powdered Lye is equal to twenty pounds of Sal Soda or Washing Soda.

Eighth. One can of this Lye will saponify one pound more of grease than any other Concentrated Lye, Ball Potash, or Saponifier.

Ninth. This Lye is 28 per cent. stronger than any other Lye or Potash.

Tenth. One to two teaspoonfuls will soften a tub of the hardest water.

Eleventh. One teaspoonful will thoroughly cleanse Sinks, Drains, or Closets.

Invaluable for killing Roaches, Mice, Rats, etc. The best article for washing Trees.

TUTT'S PILLS IMPART APPETITE.

Dr. Tutt has succeeded in combining in these pills the heretofore antagonistic qualities of a Strengthing, Purgative, and a Purifying Tonic.

Their first apparent effect is to increase the appetite by causing the food to properly assimilate. Thus the system is nourished, and by their tonic action on the digestive organs, regular and healthy evacuations are produced.

The rapidity with which PERSONS TAKE ON FLESH while under the influence of these pills, indicates their adaptability to nourish the body, hence their efficacy in curing nervous debility, melancholy, dyspepsia, wasting of the muscles, sluggishness of the liver, chronic constipation, and imparting health & strength to the system. STATE NEWS.

Evansville wants a new gas company.

Scarlet fever and diphtheria are quiet prevalent at Logansport.

The publishers of the Plaindealer at Wabash are about to start a daily.

A starch factory is wanted at South Bend. The scheme is being agitated.

William Deal was killed by lightning, near Indianapoles, on Tuesday.

Evansville has just issued $65,000 in city bonds in aid of a new rail road.

David Torpy, of Bedford, was arrested Tuesday, by a deputy United States marshal, charged with perjury.

The wheat crop of the southern part of the state is reported in fine condition, with a large increase of acreage over last year.

Tuesday evening a tree fell upon Isaac Pitts, of Hagerstown, breaking his arm and bruising him up otherwise in a very serious manner.

Abram Winn, a farmer living fourteen miles northeast of Terre Haute, was killed by lightning, Tuesday, while at work in his corn-crib.

James Long, aged eighteen, was killed at Vincennes, Tuesday, while coupling two passenger coaches on the Cairo and Vincennes Railroad.

Artz, the missing Lafayette watchman, has returned. He says that he was warned away by two men, who threatened to kill him unless he left.

The first number of the Island Park Assembly Journal, published at Lagrange, has found its way to our table. The Journal is devoted to religious literature.

A Thornton saloon was raided on Sunday night. The billiard table, mirrors, decanters and glasses were demolished, and the liquor all turned ount on the floor.

An accident by which several freight cars were thrown from the track, occurred near the junction at Lafayette on Tuesday. An open switch was the cause.

The slander suit of Spencer Wiley vs. Jerome Wiley, at Brookville, was decided in the circuit court, on Tuesday, a verdict of $165 being given in favor of the plaintiff.

Chas. Engle, an old conductor on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad, in getting on his train Tuesday, slipped and fell, striking his head, breaking his nose and otherwise seriously injuring himself.

The case of the First National Bank of Vevay vs. Elijah Walsh and others, on a change of venue from Switzerland to the Jefferson circuit court, which has been on trial for several days, resulted in a verdict of $1,645 for the plaintiff.

A bold robbery was committed at the residence of Wm. Colter, in Peru, Tuesday night. Mr. Colter started up stairs to retire, when he met a man on the stairs. The man threw a coat over Colter's head and made his escape. About $200 were taken.

Jacob Metzgar, living two miles east of Elkhart, dropped dead Tuesday morning while going from his house to the barn. He was an old resident, and was one of the first to go to California during the gold fever, where he accumulated a large fortune.

The old and well known lightning rod man got in his work on the Board of the State Insane Asylum, and presented a bill of $6,000 for rodding the building. The Board couldn't see it that way and cut the bill down to $700, which is all they propose to pay.

B. F. Bently, part proprietor of a saw mill in Carthage, six miles south of Knightstown, and son of Ephraim Bently, commissioner of Hancock county, was fatally injured, Tuesday, by being caught and wound around a shaft, and both arms and legs broken. His body was horribly mangled.

The annual convention of the delegate state board of agriculture will commence Tuesday, January 6th Among the speakers whose names appear upon the programme are Prof. C. L. Ingersoll, Prof. H. H. Wiley, of Purdue University, T. A. Goodwin, Col. W. W. Granger, Rob't Mitchell, John Sutherland and J. J. W. Billingsley.

While attending to her household duties on Saturday, Mrs. Warren fell dead in Wabash county.—Lafayette Courier. It was a fortunate thing that she was not standing near the line at the time, or she might possibly have fallen over into Miami county. At any rate she had plenty of scope and territory to fall. If it had been a Lafayette girl, her feet would have died in another county, any how after she flopped over.

The celebrated Levicy–Burns–Myers imbroglio, which has so long engaged the attention of Greensburg, and indeed the whole county, has abruptly reached a peaceful end, and a compromise has been effected, and Levicy, the father of the much-wronged Frances, agrees to withdraw the two civil suits, the one against Myers for seduction, and the other against Burns for procuring an abortion on his daughter.

Tuesday morning, Alonzo Buck, of South Bend, was looking at a revolver when his wife came running up to him playfully and standing close to him opened wide her mouth and said, "Shoot me right in the mouth." Alonzo drew up the revolver cocked, when it went off, the ball passing into Mrs. Buck's open mouth, and lodged a little to the right and in front of the spinal column. A surgeon was called, but failed to find the ball, and it is feared the shot may prove fatal.

Elixir Vitæ.

A gentleman who has been taking Warner's Safe Bitters says it comes nearest to being the fabled Elixir Vitæ of any thing yet discovered. There is nothing equal to this and the Safe Tonic for purifying the blood. 1t

THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF CITY AND COUNTY.

Population of City, 34,000; of County, 73,000.
Daily, 25c. per month. Weekly, $1 per year.
The Fort Wayne Sentinel
Has the Largest Circulation of any Daily or Weekly Newspaper in Northern Indiana.
The Daily publishes the Associated Press Dispatches, and contains as much matter as any daily paper in the State outside of Indianapolis.
Delivered to subscribers either by mail or carrier, at 25 cents per month.
It is the Cheapest Daily Newspaper in the World, and the Best Advertising Medium in Northern Indiana.
The Weekly is a 7-column 8 or 10-page paper, and is the largest newspaper in the State.

The Fort Wayne Sentinel,

DAILY AND WEEKLY,
OFFICE, 107 CALHOUN STREET,

Fort Wayne, Ind., Dec. 11, 1879.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

Daily Sentinel—One Square—One Insertion, 50 cents; One Week, $1.75; One Month, $4.00; Three Months, $6.75; Six Months, $12.00; Twelve Months, $22,50.

Advertisements inserted every other day, twice a week, or once a week, will be charged respectively three-fifths, one-half, and one-third full-time rates.

Advertisements in Weekly Sentinel, one-third the price of Daily for an equal period of time.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co., of New York, one of the largest advertising agencies in the United States, in a circular recently issued, say: "The newspapers most largely patronized by advertisers charge rates, for the insertion of advertisements, which seem to be based upon the idea, that one cent a line for each line of space, or 14 cents per inch for a short inch of space, in each thousand copies issued, is a fair price for advertising."

A "fair price" for an inch of space in the SENTINEL, for one year, on this basis, would be $187.82. The annual rate for one inch space in the DAILY SENTINEL is $22.50, or less than one-eighth of a cent a line for each thousand issued.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co., the advertising agents before referred to, in their circular, propose to insert a one inch advertisement in 1,050 newspapers, having a total circulation of 625,000, for sixteen months, for $1,600, payable $100 a month. This would be sixteen cents an inch per month per thousand of weekly circulation. They say: "We find it necessary to explain that the above is a net price. No commission from it can be allowed. Have refused an order for $5,800, which hinged upon a concession of 5 per cent. This is the cheapest advertising we have ever been able to offer, and the price cannot be reduced a single penny."

The annual rate charged by the SENTINEL is about SEVEN cents an inch per month per thousand of weekly circulation,—less than one half what Rowell & Co. call "the cheapest advertising they have ever been able to offer."

The average circulation of the Daily Sentinel is now upwards of 4,400, and of the Weekly 2,200. The Weekly circulates almost exclusively with farmers. In addition to 288 mail subscribers, and what are sold by news boys, the Daily Sentinel is regularly delivered to subscribers in this city and neighboring towns as follows: Fort Wayne, 2,768; Monroeville, 46; New Haven, 20; Huntertown, 9; Pierceton, 49; Arcola, 24; Larwill, 36; Columbia City, 121; Coesse, 10; Bourbon, 53; Plymouth, 35; Warsaw, 128; Etna Green, 5; Atwood, 9; Delphos, 50; Elida, 30; Van Wert, 141; Maples, 14; Middlepoint, 15; Convoy, 20; Geneva, 13; Decatur, 86; Huntington, 165; Lagro, 38; Antioch, 20; Peru, 160; Bluffton, 142; Hartford City, 52; Inwood, 19; Montpelier, 36; Roanoke, 30; Wabash, 80; Ossian, 35; Auburn, 69; Waterloo, 43; Pleasant Lake, 26. Total regular and mail subscribers, 4,355.

The field in which a newspaper circulates should be considered by advertisers in making contracts. The DAILY SENTINEL circulates in every railroad town within a radius of seventy-five miles of Fort Wayne. No such advertising medium has ever before been offered to Fort Wayne Merchants.

The SENTINEL will duplicate any advertising contract made with any newspaper in the United States, taking circulation as the basis of the charge for space, whether the paper is the New York Herald, Chicago Times, or the smallest country weekly.

A very low estimate of the cost of printing and distributing circulars, in very large quantities, is $1.25 per thousand. The DAILY SENTINEL prints and circulates, on an average, 4,400 papers per day, or 1,370,000 per year. A six inch advertisement in the DAILY SENTINEL, one year, costs the advertiser $135.00. The cost of printing and distributing the same number of circulars would be, at $1.25 per thousand, $1,700.00, or thirteen times the cost of advertising in the SENTINEL.

NELSON & MORSS.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

Matthew Havignon, a section hand, was run over and killed in Toledo, Wednesday.

The governor of New York has reprieved Greenfield till January 20th. He was to be hanged Friday next.

The ship Calliope, which arrived in New York Wednesday, picked up the missing boat of the bark Edith, with the captain and four seamen. They were previously reported lost.

Albert Gilbert, assistant United States appraiser at New York, was arrested Wednesday, charged with complicity in various custom house frauds recently unearthed. Bail was fixed at $5,000.

An explosion of gas in a sewer on Jefferson street, Oakland, Cal., Wednesday, extended several blocks. One house was almost completely wrecked. Many others were damaged. A boy named Johnny Beach was badly burned.

It is stated that Johnny Dwyer, of Brooklyn, the champion heavy weight fighter and Paddy Ryan, formerly of Troy, fought at Minola, L. I., on Wednesday, and that Dwyer came off victor, after nineteen rounds had been fought.

The grand jury of Wayne county, O., has found twenty indictments, among them John Camaha, James Saddler, Anthony McGowan, sr., and Anthony McGowan, jr., for the murder of John Tormie, at the fair on the 2nd of October last.

The hardest storm in the history of the Northern Pacific Railroad, prevails all along the line from Brunswick to Duluth, over an area 400 miles square. The snow is a foot deep on a level and drifts are four feet deep. Trains are all delayed and business in the towns stopped. It is feared that casualties to settlers in exposed portions will result.

Tuesday night burglars effected an entrance into the opera house store at Alliance, O., by cutting a pane of glass out of the door in the building. The police discovered them tying up a large quantity of silks, but before they could make the arrest, the burglars became frightened and made their escape, leaving the goods behind. Several shots were fired at them but with no effect.

George Rust, the farmer living about five miles north of Springfield, O., who made such a desperate attempt to shuffle some weeks ago by cutting his throat with a razor, but recovered by careful nursing, made a second attempt Tuesday, by deliberately sawing his left arm half off with a butcher-knife, severing the leaders and the raidal and ulner arteries, and nearly bled to death before the doctor arrived. If he recovers an application will be made for admission to the insane asylum.

A severe wind storm prevailed over the town of Renick, Randolph county, Missouri, Wednesday. The residence of Byrd Ryle was torn to pieces, every member of the family being more or less injured, and Mr. Ryle fatally. The house of Joe Patrick was blown down and Mrs. Wright, a visitor, so severely hurt that she died. The dwelling of Noah Burkholder was torn to pieces. Mrs. Burkholder was seriously wounded. Several other houses were considerably injured, and fences, grain, stock, trees, etc., destroyed.

A most dastardly outrage took place at Holliston, Mass., Tuesday. As Mrs. Edna Chale was passing Elm street she noticed a man at the street corner who seemed as though avoiding being seen. When she had gone a little way she heard footsteps following. Soon after she was suddenly seized from behind and struck a severe blow. She screamed for help, when the ruffian forced her head to the ground and began tearing her clothes from her person. Soon recovering from her partial stupor she again screamed, and succeeded in attracting the attention of a passing team, whose occupants, being ladies, went in search of male assistance. This was soon obtained, and when they arrived they found that the lady had fainted. As soon as she recovered consciousness she said that as soon as the rascal heard the team going in search of assistance he ran through the graveyard. He said not a word, and had on a mask which concealed his features.

Poverty and Suffering.

"I was dragged down with debt, poverty and suffering for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did no good. I was completely discouraged, until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have seen a sick day since, and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost, I know it. A Workingman."

FOREIGN FLASHES.

Ex-Empress Eugenie has arrived at Chiselhurst.

The statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany shows an increase of specie of 10,500,000 marks.

The federal assembly at Berne has elected Dr. Ewetly, of Canton Aarqui, president of the confederation for 1880.

The report that Leroyer has tendered his resignation as French minister of justice, has been semi-officially contradicted.

The steamer Roscommon, from Liverpool, Nov. 13, for Havana, capsized and sunk at sea. Six of the crew were drowned.

The mill and factory owners of Arbroath, Scotland, have agreed to restore the wages ruling last January. The flax spinning works in Perthshire and Fifeshire, Scotland concede an advance of 5 percent in wages.

A grand review took place at St. Petersburg Tuesday to commemorate the founding of the order of St. George. In the evening a banquet was given, at which the czar proposed the health of Emperor William, saying: "My constant friend, the oldest knight of St. George."

Great excitement prevails at St. Petersburg. The gen d' armes and police forces have been largely increased. They incessantly patrol the streets, and are especially numerous and vigilant near the winter palace. These circumstances indicate that further attempts upon the life of the czar are anticipated.

Some Kohistanis have surrendered. An influential native agent who was collecting supplies at Maidan, Afghanistan, has been murdered. That part of the country is much disturbed, and it is reported the rebels are collecting in force there. Two brigades will march upon Maidan immediately, under command of Generals Baker and McPherson.

The new Spanish ministry has been finally constituted, as follows: Premier, Canovas Del Castello; minister of foreign affairs, Toreno; minister of war, Echeveria; minister of marine, Admiral Polon; minister of justice, Bulgala; minister of the interior, Romaldo; minister of works, Lazala; minister of colonies, Eldnayen; minister of finance, Marquis De Grivora.

Why Doesn't He Die?

John McEvoy, of Paterson, N. J., aged fifteen, crawled under the table of a circular saw for sawdust. The saw had been stopped to mend the belt, and the man in charge, not noticing the boy, started the saw. The next minute he saw a hat fly from under the table. He stopped the machine and looked under the table, and saw the boy with his head almost literally sawed in two. The saw had run from near the back of the left ear across the top of the head, down through the forehead between the eye and the nose, without injuring the eyeball, and through the nose, so that one nostril was sawed clear from the other. The saw penetrated the brain around the ear to the depth of from one and a half to three inches. The boy retained his consciousness while he was being taken to the office of Dr. Garnett, where the scalp was sewed up. The physician could see the pulsations of the brain through the opening. The lad said the pain was very great, but he refrained from crying, and he pinched the nails of his hands into the palms until the blood ran. At the Sister's Hospital he was able to lift a glass of stimulant to his lips. Dr. Marsh probed the brain to the depth of nearly two inches without touching the bottom of the cut made by the saw. The boy was able to talk intelligently, but he said it pained him to converse, and he was kept as quiet as possible. He is yet alive and conscious to-night.

PROFITABLE STOCK INVESTMENTS.

Before Messrs. Lawrence & Co., the New York bankers, inaugurated the combination system of operating in stocks, it was often very difficult for inexperienced operators, or even old stagers, to deal profitably by their single handed ventures. Now the field is open to every one for successful operations, and capital in any amounts, from $10 to $20,000, can be used with equal proportionate profit. Instead of distracting efforts among many customers, the orders of thousands are concentrated into one vast pool and co-operated for the benefit of all, dividing profits pro rata every month. A prominent citizen of San Francisco made $1,264.83 from an investment of $300 last month. Other customers are doing better still. $25 pays $125 during the month, $200 returns $1,200, or 6 percent on the stock, and soon as the market moves. New circulars contains "two unerring rules for success," and full instructions for any one to operate profitably. All the advantages of unlimited capital and carefully manipulation are secured by the combination method. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Deposits received. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, New York City.

THE READY FAMILY SOAP MAKER:

LEWIS' LYE

98 PER CENT. PURE.
(Patented.)
FINELY POWDERED.
HIGHLY PERFUMED.

The strongest and purest Lye made. Will make 12 pounds of the best Perfumed Hard Soap in 20 minutes without boiling.
The best water-softener made.
The best disinfectant.
The following are some of the advantages obtained by using Lewis' 98 Per Cent. Powdered Lye:

First. It is packed in an iron can with a slip or removable lid, easily taken off and leaving the contents exposed, thereby saving the trouble, annoyance, and danger (from flying particles), as with other Lyes, which, being solid in the cans, must be broken with a hammer to get the Lye out.
Second. It being a fine powder, you can remove the lid and pour out all the contents, being always ready for use.
Third. A teaspoonful or more can be used, as in water-softening, scrubbing, etc., and the lid returned to the can, and thereby save the balance of contents. With other Lyes all must be dissolved at once and used in a short time, or the strength is gone.
Fourth. Absolute purity. Free from all adulterations.
Fifth. The best Soap can be made in from ten to twenty minutes with this Lye.
Sixth. No failure is possible in making Soap with this Lye when the simple directions given are followed.
Seventh. One can of this Powdered Lye is equal to twenty pounds of Sal Soda or Washing Soda.
Eighth. One can of this Lye will saponify one pound more of grease than any other Concentrated Lye, Ball Potash, or Saponifier.
Ninth. This Lye is 28 per cent. stronger than any other Lye or Potash.
Tenth. One to two teaspoonfuls will soften a tub of the hardest water.
Eleventh. One teaspoonful will thoroughly cleanse Sinks, Drains, or Closets.
Invaluable for killing Roaches, Mice, Rats, etc.
The best article for washing Trees.

The commissioners met again yesterday, and spent the day in allowing bills and attending to miscellaneous matters. To-day they are on the same line of business, interspersed with "going for" C. L. Olds & Co., for not coming up to their bridge contracts. The commissioners are very wrathy about the matter, saying that there is a bridge to be erected near New Haven for which the iron has been on the ground for sometime, and yet the work is not progressing at all. Likewise with two iron bridges in Perry township, which should have been completed over a month ago, and for which the iron work has not yet left Fort Wayne.

FIAT MONEY.

As Issued by "Doc" Jackson, of Bluffton.

A New Scheme, Which Didn't Work Only $2.50 Worth.

This time it is "Doc" Jackson who is in trouble. "Doc" is the proprietor of a chop-house at Bluffton, but he is also well known in this city. "Doc" is of the African persuasion, but from his intimate acquaintance with "white trash" he has come to be pretty well up to snuff; at least his little scheme of last night, shows that he has profited by his relation with white folks or else he is a genius of no mean order.

"Doc" appears in the role of a confidence man, and the little trick which he is in possession of and which he played on Geo. Ortleib last night, is a new one at least new in the classic precincts of Fort Wayne.

Last evening at about 8:30 he went into Ortleib's saloon and inquired of Adam Bopp, the bartender, where George was. Adam told him he was not in, whereupon "Doc" produced an apparent express package envelope, bearing the address of Miss Annie Wright, Valparaiso, Ind., marked "from Peter Jackson," and was supposed to contain $55 legal tender U. S. currency, or words to that effect.

"Doc" blandly informed Adam that he had fifty-five real dollars in that package which he wanted to send to Miss Wright at Valparaiso, but he was up here on a little time, and he was afraid that if he kept the package he would open it and spend the money, so he would like to deposit it in George's drawer for safe keeping until this morning, and being a little short if the bar tender would just lend him $2.50 out of the drawer he would make it all right this morning, and he might keep the package as security. The bar-keeper, in the magnanimity of his heart, for which bar-keepers are proverbial, went down and produced the required change. Doc went away happy, and this morning returned—not.

But Ortleib, on seeing the package, immediately smelt a mice, and supposing there was a fraud close by, went out on the search for Jackson. He soon found him and brought him back and told him to open that package and pay him the money as he agreed. Jackson refused, when Ortleib told him he would get some one who would open it for him, and sent out for the marshal. Deputy Ben soon arrived and informed "Doc" that if he did not open the package he (Ben) would. "Doc" dared him to touch it, saying that that package belonged to the express company, and if any one opened it he would make it hot for them. The package, by the way, was duly sealed and stamped. The seal bearing the impress of the "Pacific Express Co." Deputy Ben said he guessed he would risk it and opened the package which contained nothing but a few valueless papers, being bills from Thomas Ryan of this city. Ben took the confiding Jackson in charge, and he will be tried for obtaining money under false pretenses. Jackson telegraphed to his Bluffton friends to come and help him out of the scrape, and whether they will or not remains a mystery. How he got possession of the Pacific Express Company's seal is a secret which Doc religiously guards.

"Doc" Jackson had his preliminary examination before Justice Ryan this afternoon.

THREE TIMES

The Fire Department Was Called Out To-Day.

Much Smoke but Very Little Fire.

Two alarms of fire were sent in this morning in quick succession, both of of which brought out the department and both were alike indestructive.

The first was from box 25, on the corner of Lewis and Hanna streets, and was occasioned by the burning out of a chimney on the corner of Lewis and Francis streets. The engines went to the place, and finding that their services were not needed, were returned to the engine house.

A short time afterward another alarm was turned in from box 15, located on the corner of Jefferson and Calhoun streets, and was caused by the burning out of a chimney at the saloon occupied by Christian Gross. Some bed-clothing in the upper part of the house caught fire from the chimney and were damaged, but the fire was put out before the department arrived and they again returned to the engine house without throwing any water.

The telephone, its turn then having come, sent in a third alarm, which caused the boys to hitch up, but they did not turn out.

LIGHTLY TRIPPING, GENTLY SKIPPING,

But He Never Used a Big, Big D--That is Hardly Ever.

Thrilling Scene at the Artesian Well.

A young man came lightly tripping up to the Artesian well, this morning, with both hands in his pocket and humming "Pinafore." He had just got over the part referring to the "big, big D," and was skipping around over the scale as nonchanantly as a prima donna, until he reached "Hardly ever." He didn't quite reach the high note. He didn't have time, for just then he stepped on some ice. It wasn't much, and to look at it no one would suppose it had so much latent power, but it had. His feet went out on a prospecting tour, and the young man sat down. He didn't make much fuss about it, nor any great display to attract attention, but he sat down firmly, as though he meant to stay. He sat down so hard that all his upper teeth dropped into his lap, and his head pushed out through the top of his hat, which hung around his neck like the court collar of the sixteenth century. People stopped and looked to see him explode, or something. He didn't explode, however, but he somethinged. He exploded the "big, big D" theory, and if he had had a French dictionary he would have exploded that.

As soon as he was out of big D's he followed up the alphabet to the end, and then got up and moved off. It was painful to see him try to walk off rapidly, and our best judgment is that it was painful to him.

MURRAY'S MUSS.

The Parting Kick of the Lafayette Boom.

A Scare Which Was Based on Thin Foundations.

The Lafayette Dispatch says:

The board of directors of the Lafayette Agricultural Works were called to meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon, at which session it is understood the order of the concern to Kerr Murray, of Fort Wayne, was rescinded, and the property is now in the market again but from indication will not long remain so. A proposition will, it is authentically reported, be made by a company, who will convert the concern into a car manufactory, and begin work within the next week or two. There seems to be hopes left for Lafayette's future. Perhaps by December, 1880, ours will be a city of manufactories. So may it be.

The above explains itself and is probably the parting kick of the Kerr Murray Lafayette boom.

The scare was a big one and Fort Wayne will be very well pleased to have Mr. Murray remain in the city. His industry has assumed large proportions and the removal of it to Lafayette would have been felt to a certain extent in Fort Wayne. But now that the smoke of battle has cleared away, as it were, the people can lean back and laugh at the scare.

They Went A-kiting.

Two of the message boys in the W. U. T. office yesterday conceived the idea that it would be a good scheme for them to go kiting, and in connection with this thought came the idea that no better paper for the manufacture of superior kites could be obtained than the manifold paper used for taking press reports. The idea was at once carried into effect, and three books of the paper, valued at about fifty cents each, were purloined by the boys for the purpose aforenamed. The theft was discovered by Mr. Davy, who reported the matter to Manager Perry, who took no further action than to send the boys a-kiting—for another situation—at noon to-day. Out of respect for their parents, the names of the boys are withheld.

Bass and Williams.

To the Editor of the SENTINEL:

J. H. Bass put Jesse L. Williams's inconsistency squarely at issue. Now one of a few things must be the verdict. Is not Jesse trying to deceive the people when he wanted the city to buy the canal feeder? Is he personally spiteful or malicious, or both? and was he perverting the truth then or is now?

Although I will ask for him a little charity, as he is getting old and I fear is getting childish.

AN OUTSIDER.

Christmas at Chaska's.

Fort Wayne is noted for the number and enterprise of her merchant's, and we believe that her claim in this respect are entirely just, but while we do not wish to detract one iota from immense reputation of any of our merchants, we are forced to admire some above the others, on account of their untiring efforts to please. Among this class we beg leave to mention the name of Mr. Chaska. This gentleman is certainly entitled to credit for the praiseworthy manner in which he has built up an astonishing trade for himself during the short period which he has been in our city. A SENTINEL man's attention was attracted this morning by the fine display which Mr. Chaska makes in front of his store, and supposing that if the exterior was so beautiful the interior must be far grander, and suffice it to say that our predictions were verified. Mr. Chaska's store is a perfect beauty, and everything that one can possibly desire is to be found there. But we are encroaching on our space. However, before we end, we would respectsully request all to go to Chaska's.

Fancy Groceries.

The popular Berry street grocer, Mr. J. C. Didier, respectfully invites the public generally to visit his store and see the wonderful bargains in Holiday Goods which he is now offering. Mr. Didier's long experience in the grocery business enables him to perceive the exact wants of his customers, and, judging from the success with which he is meeting, the public seem to appreciate his efforts. Christmas goods are now arriving daily, and are being offered at lower prices than any other house in Fort Wayne. As every person is in need of provisions, we feel confident in saying that if J. C. Didier is given a call entire satisfaction will be the result.

Large stock of meerschaum, briar and china pipes, amber and meerschaum cigar and cigarette holders, just the thing for holiday presents, at W. A. Foote's, Wayne and Calhoun streets.

Thanks.

I take this means of extending my thanks to the Fort Wayne delegation for their liberal patronage of the "Occidental" during the "Grant boom," and for the many expressions of good feeling toward me on their arrival and during their stay. Call again gentlemen and I will always try and make it pleasant for you.

Trinity social at W. H. Withers's residence to-morrow night.

The saloons will all be closed on Christmas and New Years day—in a horn.

The eagle arrived safely, but flew to his mate, east, to return in a few days.

Miss Jennie Hart will leave for Lima, O., on Saturday to spend the holidays.

The City Band was out this afternoon, advertising the fair at the Academy.

Mayor Zollinger and Marshal Diehl returned from Indianapolis yesterday afternoon.

Chris Enteman expects to have the addition to his saloon completed before Christmas.

Bob Rurdette was in town yesterday, en route to Warsaw, where he lectured last night.

Geo. J. Schott is the happy father of a boy. He weighs thirteen pounds, apothecary's weight.

The boys are glad that the alarms came in to-day in place of yesterday, as the ground was frozen up.

Over 13,000 entertainments are already booked for Christmas week. Not in this city alone, though.

How a paper could "copy copiously" from the local columns of the Gazette is a mystery. It wouldn't pay.

John Dillon, the best low comedian on the American stage, will perform at the Academy next Tuesday evening.

James Cannon left for Dunkirk, O., last night, in charge of engine No. 133. He will pull the stone train from that point.

Only a brick,
Only a squirt,
Only a pant-leg
All mud and dirt.

Not original.

Sol Bayless has returned to the city. He is brakeing on the C. and B. road, running from Chicago to Bloomington, Ill.

The Western Union Telegraph office will shortly be removed to a room in the Aveline House, fronting on Calhoun street.

The many friends of Conover are pressing him to accept the second place on the ticket in case Hendricks absolutely refuses

The case of Baker vs. the Wabash road is still on trial before Judge Ward, at Lafayette. The evidence for the plaintiff is not yet completed.

Old Boreas will have to bustle around like blazes to ring in 118 snows yet this winter. That's what Prof. Tice says there'll be, and he knows.

Hoffman Bros. yesterday received eighteen new band saws for their large mills. They are from forty to fifty feet in length, and were imported from France.

At the temperance meeting last night speeches were made by Calvin Anderson, Kavanauh, Chapman, "Brother Jacob," Mrs. C. G. Smith and Mrs. Cameron.

Herr Fred. Shutz, a very talented and eloquent orator, delivered a lecture in German before a goodly audience at Arion Hall, last night. Subject, "Children and their Importance."

Rev. Mr. Webbe, the newly-appointed rector of Trinity (Episcopal) Church, will arrive with his family one week from to-day, to remain. He will be temporarily domiciled at the Hamilton House.

Mike Singleton was hauling the eagle around for the St. Vincent de Paul Society to-day, when his horses a notion to skip out, which they did. Mike checked them, however, and they returned to their place in the procession.

At Indianapolis, on Tuesday, Mayor Zollinger introduced one of his old soldiers to the governor. The o. s., who was slightly exilerated, slapped the honest old governor on the shoulder and said, "Well, Jimmy, how are you?" Jimmy seemed to enjoy it.

The commissioners met again yesterday, and spent the day in allowing bills and attending to miscellaneous matters. To-day they are on the same line of business, interspersed with "going for" C. L. Olds & Co., for not coming up to their bridge contracts. The commissioners are very wrathy about the matter, saying that there is a bridge to be erected near New Haven for which the iron has been on the ground for sometime, and yet the work is not progressing at all. Likewise with two iron bridges in Perry township, which should have been completed over a month ago, and for which the iron work has not yet left Fort Wayne.

FIAT MONEY.

As Issued by "Doc" Jackson, of Bluffton.

A New Scheme, Which Didn't Work Only $2.50 Worth.

This time it is "Doc" Jackson who is in trouble. "Doc" is the proprietor of a chop-house at Bluffton, but he is also well known in this city. "Doc" is of the African persuasion, but from his intimate acquaintance with "white trash" he has come to be pretty well up to snuff; at least his little scheme of last night, shows that he has profited by his relation with white folks or else he is a genius of no mean order.

"Doc" appears in the role of a confidence man, and the little trick which he is in possession of and which he played on Geo. Ortleib last night, is a new one at least new in the classic precincts of Fort Wayne.

Last evening at about 8:30 he went into Ortleib's saloon and inquired of Adam Bopp, the bartender, where George was. Adam told him he was not in, whereupon "Doc" produced an apparent express package envelope, bearing the address of Miss Annie Wright, Valparaiso, Ind., marked "from Peter Jackson," and was supposed to contain $55 legal tender U. S. currency, or words to that effect.

"Doc" blandly informed Adam that he had fifty-five real dollars in that package which he wanted to send to Miss Wright at Valparaiso, but he was up here on a little time, and he was afraid that if he kept the package he would open it and spend the money, so he would like to deposit it in George's drawer for safe keeping until this morning, and being a little short if the bar tender would just lend him $2.50 out of the drawer he would make it all right this morning, and he might keep the package as security. The bar-keeper, in the magnanimity of his heart, for which bar-keepers are proverbial, went down and produced the required change. Doc went away happy, and this morning returned—not.

But Ortleib, on seeing the package, immediately smelt a mice, and supposing there was a fraud close by, went out on the search for Jackson. He soon found him and brought him back and told him to open that package and pay him the money as he agreed. Jackson refused, when Ortleib told him he would get some one who would open it for him, and sent out for the marshal. Deputy Ben soon arrived and informed "Doc" that if he did not open the package he (Ben) would. "Doc" dared him to touch it, saying that that package belonged to the express company, and if any one opened it he would make it hot for them. The package, by the way, was duly sealed and stamped. The seal bearing the impress of the "Pacific Express Co." Deputy Ben said he guessed he would risk it and opened the package which contained nothing but a few valueless papers, being bills from Thomas Ryan of this city. Ben took the confiding Jackson in charge, and he will be tried for obtaining money under false pretenses. Jackson telegraphed to his Bluffton friends to come and help him out of the scrape, and whether they will or not remains a mystery. How he got possession of the Pacific Express Company's seal is a secret which Doc religiously guards.

"Doc" Jackson had his preliminary examination before Justice Ryan this afternoon.

THREE TIMES

The Fire Department Was Called Out To-Day.

Much Smoke but Very Little Fire.

Two alarms of fire were sent in this morning in quick succession, both of of which brought out the department and both were alike indestructive.

The first was from box 25, on the corner of Lewis and Hanna streets, and was occasioned by the burning out of a chimney on the corner of Lewis and Francis streets. The engines went to the place, and finding that their services were not needed, were returned to the engine house.

A short time afterward another alarm was turned in from box 15, located on the corner of Jefferson and Calhoun streets, and was caused by the burning out of a chimney at the saloon occupied by Christian Gross. Some bed-clothing in the upper part of the house caught fire from the chimney and were damaged, but the fire was put out before the department arrived and they again returned to the engine house without throwing any water.

The telephone, its turn then having come, sent in a third alarm, which caused the boys to hitch up, but they did not turn out.

LIGHTLY TRIPPING, GENTLY SKIPPING,

But He Never Used a Big, Big D--That s Hardly Ever.

Thrilling Scene at the Artesian Well.

A young man came lightly tripping up to the Artesian well, this morning, with both hands in his pocket and humming "Pinafore." He had just got over the part referring to the "big, big D," and was skipping around over the scale as nonchanantly as a prima donna, until he reached "Hardly ever." He didn't quite reach the high note. He didn't have time, for just then he stepped on some ice. It wasn't much, and to look at it no one would suppose it had so much latent power, but it had. His feet went out on a prospecting tour, and the young man sat down. He didn't make much fuss about it, nor any great display to attract attention, but he sat down firmly, as though he meant to stay. He sat down so hard that all his upper teeth dropped into his lap, and his head pushed out through the top of his hat, which hung around his neck like the court collar of the sixteenth century. People stopped and looked to see him explode, or something. He didn't explode, however, but he somethinged. He exploded the "big, big D" theory, and if he had had a French dictionary he would have exploded that.

As soon as he was out of big D's he followed up the alphabet to the end, and then got up and moved off. It was painful to see him try to walk off rapidly, and our best judgment is that it was painful to him.

MURRAY'S MUSS.

The Parting Kick of the Lafayette Boom.

A Scare Which Was Based on Thin Foundations.

The Lafayette Dispatch says:

The board of directors of the Lafayette Agricultural Works were called to meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon, at which session it is understood the order of the concern to Kerr Murray, of Fort Wayne, was rescinded, and the property is now in the market again but from indication will not long remain so. A proposition will, it is authentically reported, be made by a company, who will convert the concern into a car manufactory, and begin work within the next week or two. There seems to be hopes left for Lafayette's future. Perhaps by December, 1880, ours will be a city of manufactories. So may it be.

The above explains itself and is probably the parting kick of the Kerr Murray Lafayette boom.

The scare was a big one and Fort Wayne will be very well pleased to have Mr. Murray remain in the city. His industry has assumed large proportions and the removal of it to Lafayette would have been felt to a certain extent in Fort Wayne. But now that the smoke of battle has cleared away, as it were, the people can lean back and laugh at the scare.

They Went A-kiting.

Two of the message boys in the W. U. T. office yesterday conceived the idea that it would be a good scheme for them to go kiting, and in connection with this thought came the idea that no better paper for the manufacture of superior kites could be obtained than the manifold paper used for taking press reports. The idea was at once carried into effect, and three books of the paper, valued at about fifty cents each, were purloined by the boys for the purpose aforenamed. The theft was discovered by Mr. Davy, who reported the matter to Manager Perry, who took no further action than to send the boys a-kiting—for another situation—at noon to-day. Out of respect for their parents, the names of the boys are withheld.

Bass and Williams.

To the Editor of the SENTINEL:

J. H. Bass put Jesse L. Williams's inconsistency squarely at issue. Now one of a few things must be the verdict. Is not Jesse trying to deceive the people when he wanted the city to buy the canal feeder? Is he personally spiteful or malicious, or both? and was he perverting the truth then or is now?

Although I will ask for him a little charity, as he is getting old and I fear is getting childish.

AN OUTSIDER.

Christmas at Chaska's.

Fort Wayne is noted for the number and enterprise of her merchant's, and we believe that her claim in this respect are entirely just, but while we do not wish to detract one iota from immense reputation of any of our merchants, we are forced to admire some above the others, on account of their untiring efforts to please. Among this class we beg leave to mention the name of Mr. Chaska. This gentleman is certainly entitled to credit for the praiseworthy manner in which he has built up an astonishing trade for himself during the short period which he has been in our city. A SENTINEL man's attention was attracted this morning by the fine display which Mr. Chaska makes in front of his store, and supposing that if the exterior was so beautiful the interior must be far grander, and suffice it to say that our predictions were verified. Mr. Chaska's store is a perfect beauty, and everything that one can possibly desire is to be found there. But we are encroaching on our space. However, before we end, we would respectsully request all to go to Chaska's.

Fancy Groceries.

The popular Berry street grocer, Mr. J. C. Didier, respectfully invites the public generally to visit his store and see the wonderful bargains in Holiday Goods which he is now offering. Mr. Didier's long experience in the grocery business enables him to perceive the exact wants of his customers, ard, judging from the success with which he is meeting, the public seem to appreciate his efforts. Christmas goods are now arriving daily, and are being offered at lower prices than any other house in Fort Wayne. As every person is in need of provisions, we feel confident in saying that if J. C. Didier is given a call entire satisfaction will be the result.

Large stock of meerschaum, briar and china pipes, amber and meerschaum cigar and cigarette holders, just the thing for holiday presents, at W. A. Foote's. Wayne and Calhoun streets.

Thanks.

I take this means of extending my thanks to the Fort Wayne delegation for their liberal patronage of the "Occidental" during the "Grant boom," and for the many expressions of good feeling toward me on their arrival and during their stay. Call again gentlemen and I will always try and make it pleasant for you.

Yours truly,
